National Turnout Heavy

WASHINGTON (AP) — Awaking in most parts of the nation to rain and overcast skies, Americans still turned out in unusually heavy numbers today to choose a new Congress and shape their state governments.

President Nixon set the pace, arriving at a school house in San Clemente, Calif., with wife Pat and daughter Tricia, moments before the 7 a.m. poll opening. He let the ladies vote first, then cast his ballot for what he hopes will be national endorsement of his administration.

In school houses, fire stations and municipal halls from chilly Maine, through rainy Ohio and Michigan to sunny Arizona, Americans were electing 35 senators, 35 governors and a new 435-member House of Representatives. The angry clamor of a bitter mid-term campaign was yielding to the solemnity of the decision.

Republicans appeared likely to add one to three seats to their minority position in the Senate. Little change was expected in the Democratic-controlled House. Democrats appeared headed for statehouse gains of perhaps a half-dozen governorships.

The President noted the party in the White House usually loses substantially in congressional balloting in off-year elections, but he said Republicans will do better than that this time. He wouldn't make a prediction in numbers, though.

Above all, Nixon said, he hoped voters would turn out in great numbers. "This is a day for the majority to speak," he saaid.

The turnout across the nation seemed to be fulfilling this expressed wish.

In Rhode Island, a possibly unprecedented off-year high appeared in the offing. Voting was heavy in Delaware, Florida, Georgia, Illinois, Missouri and Oklahoma and tending toward heavy in Connecticut, North Carolina, Ohio, Texas, Utah and Virginia. Against this trend were Maryland and the city of Detroit, though the rest of Michigan showed a strong turnout.

The rain belt included Virginia, Maryland, Illinois, Indiana, Michigan, Missouri and Nebraska. Nebraska also was getting some snow as was Texas' western panhandle.

The voting followed a campaign in which Republicans stressed law and order and Democrats hammered at the state of the economy.

The GOP theme was continued even on election day as White House Press Secretary Ronald L. Ziegler volunteered a statement at San Clemente about the rock throwing incident following Nixon's speech last Thursday in San Jose.

"It was a serious and unfortunite incident that I personally would hope never would occur again around the President of the United States and those accompanying him," Ziegler said.

The San Jose police chief, Ray Blackmore, had said Monday that reports of the violence were exaggerated.

Ziegler disagreed. The reports "were in ny way exaggerated," he said.

And the great enigmas remained as the ballots were marked and folded, the voting levers pulled. Among them:

—How will the nation react to a Republican offensive concentrated on the issue of lawlessness and violence—and dramatized at the last minute by the confrontation in San Jose, Calif., between Nixon and antiwar demonstrators?

—What of the economy, the Democratic issue? Will the voters look, as Democrats have urged, to their wallets?

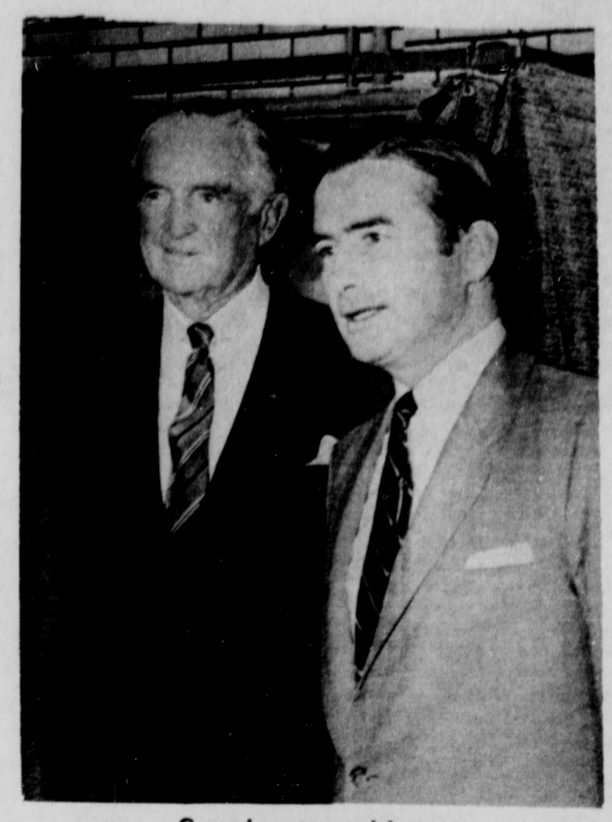

—What will be the polling place impact of the six-week General Motors strike, which has idled some 400,000 men, most of them in crucial, hotly contested midwestern states?

—Where and how will state concerns, local problems, personalities, issues never raised on a national platform, override the broader arguments and shape the outcome?

Republican against Democrat, law and order versus inflation and unemployment, the argument raged into election eve in a nationally televised exchange.

Republicans chose for their election-eve windup a nationally televised reprise of the Phoenix, Ariz., campaign speech in which

Missourians Flocking To Polls

ST. LOUIS (AP) — A heavy turnout in chilly autumn weather marked the early hours of Missouri's election today as a 69-year-old Democratic U. S. senator, Stuart Symington, faced 34-year-old challenger, Atty. Gen. John C. Danforth.

The metropolitan areas of St. Louis city and county, with 630,000 registered voters reported big voting in the first three hours. By 9 a.m. county election officials reported 8 per cent of the registered voters had cast ballots. Henry F. Koch of the election board revised his estimate of the turnout this year from 250,000 to a new figure of 280,000.

In the city of St. Louis 7.7 per cent of the 230,000 registered voters had gone to the polls by 9 a.m.

Jackson County (Kansas City) also reported heavy turnouts, but primarily in those areas in which Symington and Danforth had campaigned hardest. The vote was reported light in the black residential areas.

Kansas City's weather was damp and chilly.

Jefferson City reported a heavy vote in the early hours. Even heavier than in 1968 when the presidency was at stake. The weather was cloudy and cold.

The weather was much the same and so was the voting pace in other populous areas, including Springfield.

Cape Girardeau, in southeastern Missouri and the home of both candidates for the 10th District congressional seat — Rep. Bill D. Burlison, Democrat and Republican Gary Rust — also reported a heavy turnout.

Danforth voted early in Jefferson City and got right back on the campaign trail, planning to visit Springfield, Cape Girardeau, St. Joseph and Kansas City. When the polls close at 7 p.m. he planned to fly back to St. Louis for what he has called his "victory party."

With the heavy turnout in the early hours the total vote could go well beyond the 1,250,000 predicted earlier by Secy. of State James C. Kirkpatrick.

Symington, 69, is seeking his fourth term in the Senate.

Democrats have said Symington must come out of the St. Louis metropolitan area with an edge of 75,000 to beat Danforth comfortably.

Delton L. Houtchens, Democratic state chairman, said Symington would win with a margin of 240,000 votes. The Republican state chairman, J. Nick Gray, said it will be close but Danforth will emerge the victor.

The party leaders also differed on the only other statewide race, for state auditor.

Houtchens said State Auditor Haskell Holman will win by 47,000 votes, but Gray said challenger Christoper (Kit) Bond will win easily.

In that race, too, age is a factor. Holman is almost 62 and a veteran of 17 years as state auditor. He has been on the state payroll 37 years. Bond, a former assistant attorney general, is 31 years old.

Democratic Gov. Warren E. Hearnes got into that race late in the campaign. He said the Democrats would borrow $50,000 if necessary to beat Bond.

Bond countered by asking why the Hearnes administration is fearful of an independent audit.

He has been an active campaigner while Holman has kept to his years-old practice of showing up wherever there's a crowd to shake hands and ask for votes.

Incumbent congressmen are expected to be re-elected, though Republicans are claiming a fighting chance in both the 10th District of southeastern Missouri and the 6th District of northwestern Missouri. Here's the congressional lineup:

Area Councils Hold Meetings

The Concordia City Council Monday night discussed a variety of possibilities for increasing the city's revenue to repair curbs, guttering and streets.

Increases in cigarette taxes, merchants' license, vehicle licenses and a higher general tax levy were debated, but the council took no final action. Further discussion is expected.

The LaMonte Board of Aldermen passed a disaster planning ordinance empowering the mayor to name a co-ordinator to oversee activities within the city during a time of emergency.

The LaMonte meeting was attended by about 50 residents who aired complaints on topics ranging from law enforcement to the city's dog leash law. The council took no action on the various topics discussed during

Accept Demolition Bid

By KEITH OWEN
Democrat-Capital Staff Writer

The City Council Monday night contracted with the Dore Wrecking Co., Kawkawlin, Mich., to demolish the Peters and Ghosen Buildings, 114 and 116 West Second, at a cost of $14,800.

The Dore bid was one of two received by the city. The other came from S. K. Mabry, 1226 Liberty Park, for $5,350, and resulted in a short debate between Mabry and Mayor Jerry Jones.

Mabry asked the council why the city accepted the Dore bid since it was substantially higher than his own.

Mayor Jones explained that the lesser bid was not submitted in proper legal form, did not include liability or workmen's compensation insurance, and in general "did not meet the requirements of the call specifications."

"Legally, we could not accept the bid," Jones said.

In other business, bids on a one-ton flatbed truck for use by the Meter Department were submitted by three local firms. Howard Truck and Equipment Co., submitted a $2,535 bid for a 1971 International truck; Bill Greer Motors' bid was $2,494.52 on a 1971 Ford; and Mike O'Connor's submitted a $2,400 bid on a 1970 Chevrolet truck and an alternate bid of $2,430 on a 1971 model.

City Clerk Ralph Dedrick attributed the difference in the latter bid to an inability on the part of O'Connor's to determine definite delivery time on the 1971 model. All the bids were turned over to the police, lights and gas committee for acceptance of the lowest or best bid.

An area south of the Thompson Hills Shopping Center and west of the Gibson Discount Store was rezoned from R-1 to R-3 on the recommendation of the City Planning and Zoning Committee. The rezoning is intended to allow the construction of apartment dwellings and was requested by West Side Realty.

In routine action the council approved the installation of a streetlight approximately 300 feet east of New York on 28th and the placement of a mercury-vapor light at the corner of 14th and Garfield.

Also concerning lighting, an ordinance will be drawn up to replace the present lights at 15th and Montgomery, and 15th and Brown behind Whittier School with the more efficient mercury-vapor lights. Councilman George Dugan Jr., said the change was needed because of recent vandalism

Canceled bond coupons totaling $23,264.71 were turned over to the finance committee, and then distributed to a number of Girl Scouts from Cadet Troop 330 who were in attendance at the meeting.

The council also approved a wholesale beer distributing license for Ray Brueckner's Central Distributing Co., 2501 West Main, and a liquor by the drink license for Fred Biggs' Friendly Tavern, 117 West Main.

Parade Ordinance Passed By Council

A new, tougher ordinance governing parades and processions in the city was passed at Monday nights' City Council meeting.

The substitute ordinance replaces section 300.325 of the state Model Traffic Ordinance, which had heretofore governed parades.

Under the new ordinance, no parades or processions may be held in the city without prior approval of the chief of police. A written request must be submitted 72 hours before the proposed parade time. The previous ordinance stipulated that only parades involving 200 or more people or 50 or more vehicles required approval by the chief of police.

If the parade request is in satisfactory form, the chief of police is empowered to issue the permit, providing that the parade or procession does not "tend to be dangerous or harmful to the public health, safety and welfare of the residents of the city."

The ordinance specifies that the routes of all parades must be approved or designated by the chief of police so as not to interfere with traffic or cause congestion.

Parades and processions may be authorized only between the hours of 8 a.m. and 4 p.m. Mondays through Fridays and between 8 a.m. and 11 a.m. Saturdays, the substitute ordinance states.

Specifically exempted from the regulations are military parades, those of the police and fire departments and funeral processions.

The council's action was the

Michael D. Wiser

Sedalian Killed In Collision

LEE'S SUMMIT — Michael Wiser, 18, 431 East Saline, Sedalia, was killed in a two-car crash on Highway 50 at 9 a.m. Tuesday in front of Troop A Headquarters of the Missouri Highway Patrol.

Wiser's vehicle, a 1968 Plymouth, was traveling west on Highway 50 when it went out of control on wet pavement, the Patrol said.

The Plymouth jumped the median strip and was struck broadside by a 1969 Chevrolet driven east on the highway by Paul Lacho, Kansas City.

Lacho received a broken left leg and internal injuries and was listed in serious condition at the Jackson County Hospital, the Patrol reported.

Wiser was born July 17, 1952, in Tipton, the son of Charles L. (Bill) Wiser and Della M. Wiser.

He graduated from Smith-Cotton High School in 1970. He was employed by the Sedalia Cold Storage Co.

Survivors include his parents, 431 East Saline; five brothers, Ricky and Ronald Wiser of the home; William Dewayne Wiser, 2301 South Grand; Donny Wray Wiser, stationed with the armed forces in Germany; Billy Gene Wiser, Raytown; and a sister, Darlene Sizemore, 1405 South Prospect.

He was preceded in death by a sister who died in infancy.

The body is at the Ewing Funeral Home.

Funeral arrangements are incomplete.

Arrest Several Persons In Police Bombing Raids

NEW YORK (AP) — Six persons, including a 54-year-old Bronx mother and her son, have been arrested in police raids that uncovered a variety of explosive material for making bombs and building plans for 50 structures.

Bronx Dist. Atty. Burton B. Roberts said there was reason to believe "that four of the six persons arrested are connected with the Weatherman faction of the Students for a Democratic Society."

Announcing the arrests Monday, Roberts said his office had maintained surveillance on two apartments in the Bronx and one in Manhattan since mid-July.

He said the investigation by his office began after the bombing of public buildings in the city. None of the six arrested was specifically charged with having committed any bombings.

Those seized were Mary Doyle, 54, and her son Timothy, 28; Beth Katz, 26, and Donald Cavellini, 26, all of New York; Cavellini's twin brother, William, of Somerville, Mass.; and Jefferson Bernard, 19, of Syracuse.

Roberts said all but Mrs. Doyle and William Cavellini were connected with the Weatherman.

All six were charged with criminal possession of explosive materials and conspiracy to commit arson.

Roberts said Patrolmen Dennis Johnston and Gilbert Pelaez went to a second-floor apartment Sunday night in response to a call that a man had been seen there with a gun. After the patrolmen arrived, police said, they came across some of the explosive material and 19 books on bomb making at the Cavellini apartment here.

At the apartment of Mrs. Katz the raiders discovered a complete machine shop, plus metal pipes, fuses and more instructional material on making bombs.

Preparing To Vote

A heavy voter turn-out was reported at polls in Sedalia and Pettis County Tuesday. As of noon, 217 persons cast ballots in the First Ward, first precinct; 215 voted in the first precinct of the Fourth Ward; 226 cast ballots in the second precinct of the Third Ward; and 212 had voted in the third precinct of the Fourth Ward. President, Sen. Muskie Appeal To U.S. Voters

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon and Democratic Sen. Edmund S. Muskie spoke to the nation on the eve of today's congressional elections in back-to-back television appearances that provided a possible preview of the 1972 presidential campaign.

Muskie used the time, purchased on all three networks by some leading Democrats, to charge Nixon with leading a "law and order" campaign marked by slander, lies, "name-calling and deception of almost unprecedented volume."

In so appearing, Muskie, who is a going away favorite to win re-election in Maine over Republican Neil Bishop today, underlined his own position as the leading contender for the 1972 Democratic presidential nomination.

Muskie spoke immediately after a 15-minute excerpt, paid for by the Republican National Committee, of Nixon's speech last Saturday in Phoenix, Ariz., in which he responded to the violence-marked confrontation he had with antiwar demonstrators in San Jose, Calif., Thursday night.

Nixon called on "the great silent majority of Americans of all ages, of every political persuasion, to stand up and be counted against the appeasement of the rock throwers and the obscenity shouters in America."

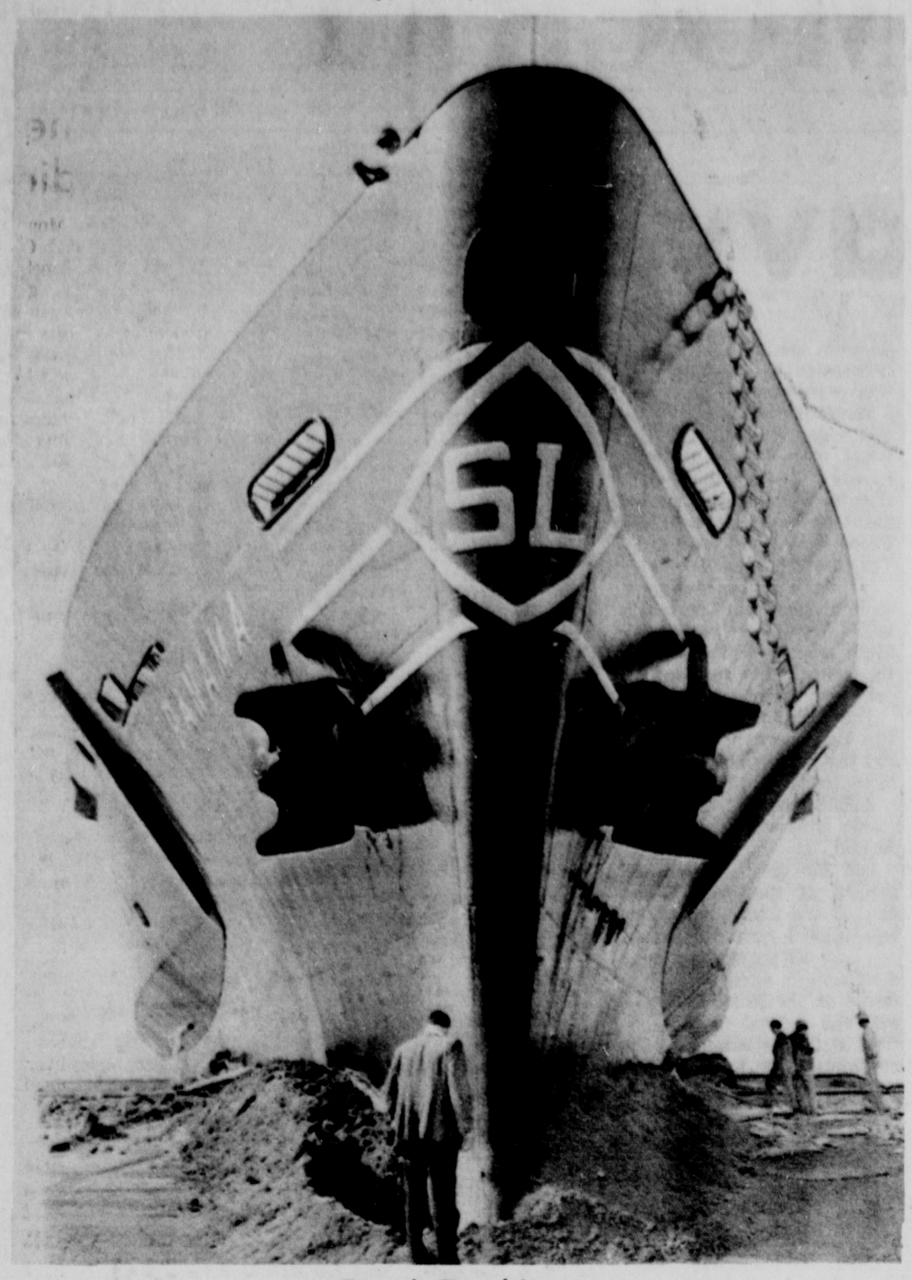

Muskie, speaking from Cape Elizabeth, Maine, said the Republican campaign has been marked by efforts "to turn our common distress to partisan advantage—not by offering better solutions—but with empty threat and malicious slander."

Muskie's appearance recalled the time when Nixon spoke on nationwide television four years ago as the Republican spokesman after an attack by President Lyndon B. Johnson.

Just as that speech provided a boost for Nixon's 1968 presidential candidacy, Muskie's en-

Politics Television Spotlight

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Last minute politicking raised hob with the networks' entertainment schedules on the eve of election day.

A half hour, purchased by and split between the Republicans and Democrats and used on each network, was placed in various time spots. NBC preempted Red Skelton; ABC "The Silent Force," and CBS, "Mayberry, R.F.D."

Excerpts from President Nixon's Phoenix, Ariz., speech last week, in which he condemned violent demonstrators, occupied the Republican spot. The black-and-white news film was, as stated by a CBS announcer before the program started, "below broadcast standards" with a noisy and sometimes blurred sound track.

Sen. Edmund S. Muskie of Maine followed with a low-key campaign talk. This Democrat-sponsored portion was in color, and Muskie was seated in an easy chair in what looked to be an old New England kitchen.

David Frost, off the networks, devoted 90 minutes to an interview with Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson on her recently published book and her memories of the White House years. The former first lady told with warmth and charm of family life in the mansion—nonstate dinner meals of tapioca pudding and "country fried steak," a Christmas in the White House with all the Johnsons together.

When Frost asked her about her emotions when daughter Luci was converted to Roman Catholicism, Mrs. Johnson explained that her daughter had been on a life-long search, adding she was happy the girl found what she sought. Was it not a shock for her Protestant mother and father?

"Not for him," Mrs. Johnson said. "Lyndon was born ecumenical."

Frost, as usual, moved easily from subject to subject and showed he had done his homework thoroughly.

NBC helped brighten the evening with one of its "World Premiere" features, a two-hour action tale of international intrigue called "Berlin Affair."

Darren McGavin played a familiar role in the McGavin style —an American investigator in Berlin hunting a former coworker who inexplicably had tried to murder him on a bridge at Pandau. The solid spy story was full of fights, bugged telephones and a romance. It was given a boost by superb location shooting in West Berlin.

Since "Berlin Affair," like so many made-for-TV film features, could have been spun in an hour, dramatic Berlin exteriors used for chases and the final shootout made the padding almost as much of a pleasure to watch as the actors.

To Cast Ballot

TOWSON, Md. (AP) — Vice President Spiro T. Agnew, now a resident of the voteless District of Columbia, returns to his home ground of Baltimore County today to ballot in the general election.

The vice president's office said Monday Agnew would vote between 11 a.m. and noon at the Rodgers forge Elementary School in Towson, where he was chief county administrator until 1966.

Ruptured Men Get $4.95 Gift for Trying This

Well-known Personalities Donate To Cosmopolitan Charity Auction

Television and movie fans who are looking for autographs of their favorite stars should make a note of the Cosmopolitan Junior Women's Club Christmas bazaar to be held next Tuesday at the First Christian Church.

The bazaar which benefits the Children's Therapy Center, Girls Town, and the club's scholarship program, will feature a number of personal belongings of various famous personalities which will be auctioned in sealed bids.

Mrs. James Holman, chairmen of the bazaar, initiated the project by writing dozens of sports, television, movie, and political figures asking them to donate an article to be auctioned for charity.

Political figures who have answered Mrs. Holman's letters included President and Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson, who sent an etching of the LBJ ranch autographed by them. Governor Warren Hearnes sent a wall plaque or trivet showing the state capital and an etching of the White House was donated by Patricia Nixon.

From the television field, Bill Cosby sent a "Fat Albert" sweatshirt and Carol Burnett sent a linen handkerchief. Dean Martin and Andy Williams both contributed records and autographed pictures and Art Linkletter sent a pen.

Sports figures also contributed a number of items. Hank Stram sent a football autographed by all the Chiefs and Ewing Kaufman, owner of the K.C. Royals, sent a baseball autographed by his team. Lou Brock added another autographed baseball and Dan Devine sent one of his famous Tiger caps. Bill Haas, baseball star and member of the Christian Athletes, donated a copy of his recent book.

Bob Hope's key ring heads the list from movieland and Bing Crosby sent a copy of his cookbook. Actress Joan Crawford sent a handkerchief and John Wayne sent an autographed coffee mug.

Sedalians have also contributed to the effort. Mayor Jerry Jones gave a copy of the seal of Sedalia mounted on red velvet and Hazel Lang sent a copy of her book of poems. Past presidents of the Junior Women have sent items and other gifts are expected. Items are being received daily from all over the United States and the women expect to have a large selection by Tuesday.

Highlighting the list of gifts would have to be one sent by Elvis Presley. Included with Mr. Presley's autographed picture was a pair of slacks bearing the label "Made especially for Elvis Presley."

Bids may be made throughout the day from 1 to 9 p.m. and envelopes will be provided. The bids will be opened at 9 p.m. with the winners being notified immediately.

The project by the women has not gone unrewarded. Through a mixup of mail, they think the request to Tom Jones for a donation resulted only in the entire Cosmopolitan Junior Women's Club being made members of the Tom Jones Fan Club!

There is no charge to enter the bazaar and hundreds of handmade gifts and baked goods will be on sale.

Hoosier Has a Nose For Wine

(Advice from manuscript in Shaker Museum, Old Chatham, N.Y.: "Remember if water source is doubtful, drink the wine!")

By AILEEN SNODDY

NEW YORK — (NEA, — With a name like Alexander Campbell McNally, one would expect the bearer to revere the smoky delights of true malt Scotch whisky. On the contrary, "Sandy" McNally is a leading wine expert. And instead of spending his youthful days salmon fishing Scotland's famous River Spey, he grew up along the banks of the White River in Indianapolis, Ind.

Traditionally, Hoosiers are more noted for their love and production of hard cider than Pinot Noir wine. In McNally's early days this was true, but the tastes of the young shift with the calendar. The acceptance of making and drinking wine and spirits in this country is a fascinating study of contradictions. Currently, wine is in and hard booze is on its way out.

McNally says he never tasted wine until he was 17. Since then he has made up for the oversight. So have millions of other Americans, especially those in their 20s and 30s. Last year 256 million gallons of wine were quaffed, with 90 per cent of that consumed produced in the United States. Wine consumption has tripled since 1950; department stores are offering wine making kits and 70 per cent of what is drunk comes from the vineyards of sunny California. This latter fact keeps McNally smiling since he is wine manager for International Vintage Wines Co.

Primarily known as an importer of fine European wines, the firm in 1968 entered the American market by buying California companies such as Beaulieu Vineyard and Inglenook Vineyards and it also markets Italian Swiss Colony, Petri and Lejon.

McNally's primary task this summer was to assemble an 18,000-bottle collection of rare, vintage wines for a national auction. One single case of French red Bordeaux, 1870, sold for $1,400.

"My experience before the auction at wine tastings in Chicago, New York, Hartford, Princeton and San Francisco were most revealing," he says. "It's no longer the aging, moneyed executive or those who stock wines for picture value who show up."

The couples are in their 20s and 30s, he points out. "They were not the affluent, primed to do this. To me it shows a groundswell of others interested in wines. The mystery surrounding wine is being dispelled. The opportunity to participate, examine and taste and to buy some fine wines is changing our tastes."

McNally feels this country is nearly over its generation of drinkers who grew up on high-proof bathtub gin.

"These people can't get a kick from the 14 per cent alcohol that wine normally contains," he explains.

The new, young drinkers are coming of drinking age with wine and not hard alcohol, he feels. "We are turning into a wine-drinking society."

McNally bases this upon his own college experiences. He instigated a gourmet society at Princeton University with wine an important ingredient.

"You might say we are wine converts unlike the French, for example, who take their wine for granted. The convert is a more devout practitioner than he who is born to the faith."

Loving the business, he also is critical of some of its snobbishness.

"The wine business is parochial and in-turned," he comments, "as far as better wines are concerned. I am pleased to see nonexperts appreciating and buying wines."

Sorosis Hears Panel On Prejudice

The Sorosis Club met Monday at the Heard Memorial Club House to hear The Panel of American Women give descriptions of prejudices in our lives. Moderated by Mrs. Sol Margolin, the panel consisted of four women, a Catholic, a Jew, a Negro and a white protestant.

Mrs. Tom Keating, chairman of the Sorosis civics division, introduced the group who gave a spirited discussion of the religious and racial prejudices which affect people daily. They offered suggestions as to how prejudices can be overcome and put aside.

Mrs. John Ryan, president, presided at the meeting.

Entertain Children

Children at State School No. 21 were entertained with a Halloween Party Friday given by the Cosmopolitan Junior Women's Club.

A mask parade, games and singing were enjoyed by the children and refreshments were served.

Serving on the committee for the club were: Mrs. Bill McLaughlin, Mrs. Robert Stansbury, Mrs. Fred Davis, and Mrs. Darrell Bail.

Wash those chicken livers in cold water and dry them thoroughly before frying.

S. G. Whiprecht

Sherman G. Whiprecht, 93, 2514 Anderson, died at the home of his niece, Mrs. Charles Arnest, at 9 p.m. Monday.

Mr. Whiprecht was born in Quincy, Ill., May 6, 1877, son of the late August and Sophia Whiprecht. He married Lynn Henderson in 1911 and she preceded him in death in 1945.

Mr. Whiprecht came to Sedalia at an early age and his father operated and owned a grocery store in Sedalia. At the age of 16 he went to work at the St. Louis Clothing Store, retiring in 1949. He later worked for the Wilson Clothing Store.

Mr. Whiprecht had been a member of the First United Methodist Church for 80 years; a member of Granite Lodge No. 272 A.F. & A.M. 66 years; the Order of the Eastern Star for 53 years; Royal Arch Masons and Sedalia Council No. 42.

He was the last member of his family. However, he raised his niece, Mary Eisenhart Arnest, and she in turn gave him a home after his wife died.

Other survivors include a nephew, James Eisenhart, Overland Park, Kan.; and four great nephews, Lt. Commander Charles Arnest, Newport News, Va.; John Arnest, Lafayette, Ind.; James Arnest, Columbia; and David Arnest, 2514 Anderson.

He was preceded in death by six brothers and sisters.

Funeral services will be held at 1:50 p.m. Thursday at the First United Methodist Church with the Rev. Denis R. Craft and Rev. John H. Thornberry officiating.

Mrs. Charles Maggard will sing "I Walk Today Where Jesus Walked" and "Faith of our Fathers," accompanied at the organ by Mrs. Rosalie DeLozier.

Pallbearers will be Elver Cecil, Virgil Herrick, William Morgan, Albert Runge, W..D. Wilson and James Woods.

Honorary pallbearers will be members of the Men's Bible Class.

The Knight Templer will provide an honor guard.

Burial will be in Memorial Park Cemetery.

The family will receive friends at the Heckart-Gillespie Funeral Home.

Larry Vanderpool and Harold Williams, employes of the Skelly service station, 1615 East Broadway, reported to police that someone broke out a window on the northeast side of the building sometime Sunday night. Five dollars worth of candy, peanuts and potato chips were reported missing.

Dorothy Pozenel, 500 S. Barrett, reported to police her home was broken into sometime Monday morning. Entry to the house was gained by going through an unlocked window in the garage and forcing open the kitchen door. Several valuable coins were reported missing.

Harold Withers, 412 West Sixth, reported to police at 8:33 p.m. Monday that a battery and several hot wire cables were stolen from the engine compartment of his car while he was shopping at Bing's Supermarket, Broadway and Emmet.

The battery and cables were valued at $32.

Accidents

Harold R. Wolfe, 17, 315 North Prospect, received minor injuries Monday when his motorcycle overturned following a high-speed chase.

According to police records, Wolfe was proceeding north on Quincy at an estimated 70 miles an hour in a 30 mile speed zone when a police unit took up pursuit.

The chase continued until Wolfe came to the intersection of Prospect and Henry, where his vehicle went out of control and overturned.

Wolfe received traffic citations for running a stop sign, speeding and careless and imprudent driving. A police court date has been set for Nov. 13.

Wolfe's injuries were not serious. His motorcycle was heavily damaged.

Busy Schedule During Month For Director

The activities of the Sedalia Department of Industrial Development were highlighted in October by a visit of Sedalia officials to Washington, D.C. to discuss the Safeguard program with military planners, William Hall, director, told the City Council Monday night.

The purpose of the trip was to acquaint Safeguard officials with the facilities and community services available in Sedalia and Pettis County, Hall said.

In other activity, Hall, and Mayor Jerry Jones journeyed to Jefferson City early in October to meet with officials of the state Department of Revenue and the Bureau of Outdoor Recreation.

Hall said he met with several industrial prospects and provided plant location studies to them. One of the inquiring firms is located in Southeast Missouri, he said.

Nixon recalled the San Jose incident and declared:

"The time has come to draw the line. The time has come for the great silent majority of Americans, of all ages and every political persuasion, to stand up and be counted against appeasement of the rock throwers and obscenity shouters."

The Democratic retort was spoken by Sen. Edmund S. Muskie of Maine, in what seemed a foretaste of 1972. For Muskie, while running for re-election at home, has been running for presidential nomination as well, and the election-eve assignment given him by Democratic financiers seemed a major boost for his national credentials.

Muskie, in an appearance recorded in Cape Elizabeth, Maine, said the Republican campaign has been fashioned around lies, slander, name-calling, "deception of almost unprecedented volume."

Construction Drop Reported To Councilmen

Woodrow Garrison, city building inspector, said in his quarterly report to the city council Monday night that the number of building permits, fees and construction costs in the city during the three-month period had fallen off sharply compared to last year.

Garrison said his office issued 49 building permits during July, August and September this year, compared to 75 last year.

Total fees collected by the inspector's office fell from $1,001 last year to $815 in the same three months in 1970.

Estimated construction costs in the three months is off from $893,760 last year to $745,720 in 1970, Garrison said.

Missouri voters also will ballot on four constitutional amendments and one referendum.

The referendum is a test of a 1969 law through which the legislators gave themselves and other elective officials substantially better retirement benefits than for other state employes.

A year ago an aroused group of citizens calling themselves the Committee for Fair Pensions carried on a petition campaign. They got enough signers to force the voter test of the law.

The proposed constitutional amendments would:

—Provide for annual legislative sessions and also permit the legislature to eliminate some of the limits on their expenses.

—Give charter counties the right to greater home rule. St. Lou s County is the only one with the charter form of government but Jackson County will vote on the proposition Tuesday.

—Increase the constitutional levy for schools, counties and townships.

—Provide that in case an increased school levy election fails the levy remains at the current level instead of reverting to $1.25 on each $100 assessed valuation.

Also on the ballots will be races involving a scattering of circuit judges, half the 34 state senate seats and all 163 house seats. But three senate races and 44 of the house races were settled in the Aug. 4 primary.

The polls open at 6 a.m. and close at 7 p.m. throughout the state.

Travelogue Focuses On Lakes Area

"Great Lakes Country", an unusual and intriquing multiple-screen travelogue, sponsored by the Rotary Club of Sedalia, will be shown at 8:00 p.m. this evening in the Smith-Cotton High School auditorium.

On three large screens placed side by side, making an overall artistic canvas, and with four projectors, the travelogue artist, Dr. Ray Ludwigson, captures the natural grandeur of woods and streams and lakes, the breath-taking beauty of wild flowers and flowering orchards, as well as the dignity of man-made architecture and crafts. From the enchantment of flowering spring to the fantasy of snow-draped winter, the travelogue captures the ever-changing natural garb of the Great Lakes in the four seasons under the varying lights of dawn, midday, and twilight. The film is in reality an art form, synchronized with stereo music and sound effects.

Dr. Ludwigson, the travelogue artist, has been a college professor for twenty-four years and pursued photography as a hobby from his early teens. He now shares his beautiful art work with public audiences. In response to urging, he has created this beautiful adventure in Great Lakes Country.

Admission is by season ticket. Single admissions may be purchased at the door on Tuesday evening.

Ann Landers

A Unique Solution To Cost of Living

Dear Ann Landers: There's a certain nut in town who bragged to me just yesterday that her grocery bill for last month was less than $9. She buys milk, bread, occasionally a dozen eggs and a few apples. How does she manage? It's very easy. She watches the newspapers for weddings, funerals, political receptions, church socials and Bar Mitzvahs. She has learned how to get in anyplace without a ticket or an invitation. She dresses to suit the occasion (formal, if necessary) and conducts herself as if she belongs there. If it's a Polish wedding she does the polka. If it's a funeral she cries.

Last Sunday this woman attended the wedding of the most socially prominent people in town. She described the reception and dinner as fit for royalty. "Did you know anyone there?" I asked. "Not a soul," she replied. "The groom's people assumed I was from the bride's side, and the bride's people assumed I was from the groom's side."

Transportation and an occasional corsage are her only expenses. She usually finds someone who will drive her home, but she must get there on her own.

At first I was outraged but now I rather admire this nut's ingenuity. How do you read it? — Non Plussed

Dear Non Plussed: I wouldn't put her on my "most admired" list but she certainly has found a way to beat the high cost of living. Thanks for letting us know how one woman is handling inflation.

Dear Ann Landers: I had a brief but passionate affair with a young student. He was 20 and I was a few years older — and married. It was one of those things that clicked in a magic moment.

My husband began to get suspicious and I decided to end the romance for fear of what might happen to the young man. When I told him we had to stop seeing each other, he threatened suicide. I didn't believe he meant it, but I was wrong. Three days later he was found dead from an overdose. His family believes his death was accidental. He always had trouble sleeping. It was not uncommon for him to take several drinks before retiring and then a strong sedative.

The morning he was buried I received a letter which he had written and mailed just before he took his life. It unnerved me so completely that I was unable to attend the funeral. Now I feel that perhaps I should go to his family and confess. I need your advice and I need it now. — Silent Mourner

Dear Silent: His family has probably suffered enough. Don't add to their grief. Maintain your silence.

Dear Ann Landers: I was pleased with the reply you gave to the psychology professor who thought sex in marriage was "vastly overrated." My wife and I celebrated our golden wedding anniversary ten years ago. She is 80 and I am 81.

We aren't as active sexually as we once were but we do enjoy sex twice a week. Do you have a word for us, Ann? We'd welcome it. — Jacksonville Couple.

Dear Jack: Yes, I have a word for you. Congratulations.

Drinking may be "in" to the kids you run with — but it can put you "out" for keeps. You can cool it and stay popular. Read "Booze And You — For Teen-Agers Only." Send 35 cents in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope with your request.

The exercise was designed to test stateside-based troops in defending Western Europe with NATO forces.

Talk By Bishop On Experiences In South Africa

Bishop Robert H. Mize, 63, former Bishop of Damaraland in the Anglican Province of South Africa, will speak on his experiences in Africa in an address at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday at Calvary Episcopal Church.

Ejected from his position in 1968 by the South African government, Bishop Mize is currently vicar of Trinity Episcopal Church, Marshall.

Bishop Mize

Before going to Africa, Bishop Mize was well-known in the Midwest as founder and the first director of the St. Francis Boys Home in Salina, Kan.

The public is invited to hear his talk.

Accident Rate On Increase During 1970

Accidents in Sedalia this year continue to show a general increase over 1969, according to C. R. Harrell, records clerk of the Sedalia Police Department.

According to Harrell, the department investigated 802 auto accidents through October this year, compared to 783 last year. Fatalities have also gone up, with three recorded in 1970 and two in 1969.

The only decrease was reflected in the number of injuries during the period this year. There were 175 people hurt in wrecks, compared to 221 in 1969.

The month of October did not reflect the general trend, with 85 accidents reported and 19 injuries. That compares to 99 wrecks and 33 injuries in the same month last year.

Talks With Reds

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Herbert R. Rainwater, Veterans of Foreign Wars commander, said he talked an hour with two North Vietnamese officials in New Delhi, India, Oct. 30 about American prisoners in Indo-China.

Rainwater reported to VFW headquarters in Kansas City that the North Vietnamese refused to accept evidence of maltreatment of prisoners. He said they also insisted again that the United States admit it is "an aggressor and withdraw its troops before there can be any discussion of the prisoners."

He said he asked for permission to go to North Vietnam to meet with top officials, but was told approval would have to come from Hanoi.

Amateur Hour Canceled

NEW YORK (AP) — The years went by but the scenario remained the same. The hoofers, crooners and comedians performed frantically for the audience's approval, then basked in the applause that brought them one step nearer to the elusive world of "show biz."

Ted Mack's Original Amateur Hour, the oldest program on network television, had emerged unscathed in the changeover from radio to television, survived two wars and settled into a comfortable routine while the rest of television sought desperately to understand the taste of its audience.

The show finally died, quietly. CBS said Monday it had been canceled, when it was not renewed by the sponsor, Geritol.

The Amateur Hour had not been seen since late September, but its disappearance was not noticed because of a number of National Football League doubleheaders that preempted its Sunday slot.

For nearly 23 years—36 years counting the time on radio—a parade of performers presented their routines to audiences across America.

Most remained amateurs, even if they won. But over the years some of the entertainment world's most luminous personalities had their first national exposure on the show—and a lot of them went away losers.

There was skinny Frank Sinatra, a member of the "Hoboken Four" quartet. They were on in 1935, and lost. Ann-Margret appeared in 1957 but the audience gave its vote to a South American who played a tune on a laurel leaf.

Some winners who went on to professional success included comedian Jack Carter, 1941; singers Pat Boone, 1953, and Teresa Brewer, 1938. A fat 12-year-old soprano named Maria Kalogeropoulos made the winners circle in 1935. She went on to greater operatic fame as Maria Callas.

Over the years, more than 25,000 acts were presented—barber-shop quartets, dancers, standup comics and specialty acts. They often had unpronounceable names and came from immemorable places.

The ones who made national television were already survivors of a stringent screening process. Three units of talent scouts crisscrossed the country constantly looking for new talent. Mack estimated that only one out of 25 applicants made the TV grade.

At auditions in Nashville, the scouts turned down a young man with an unusual singing style. His hair kept falling in his eyes and he wouldn't stand still. His name was Elvis Presley.

The show was started in 1934 by Major Edward Bowes when he was the publicity-minded director of a Broadway movie house. It became a pioneering program on network radio in 1935 and within a year was the rage.

When Bowes died in 1946, Mack, a saxophone player who had been his talent supervisor, took over.

He presided over the first television broadcast, on Jan. 18, 1948 over the four-station Dumont television network—six months before Ed Sullivan's variety hour made its on-camera debut.

CBS long tolerated the relatively low ratings of the show—10 million viewers—because of its low cost. "We're devoted to the show," a CBS executive said in 1968. "We wouldn't lose it for the world."

But the Amateur Hour is gone and the viewer's nervous empathy for a star in the making can now be replaced by the animal joy of seeing the middle linebacker crash through for a crunching tackle.

St. Louis School Opens

State police were on hand at East St. Louis High School for opening of school Monday. Three striking teachers were reported arrested early Monday for attempting to prevent other teachers from reporting for work. Union teachers have been on strike since Sept. 1. (UPI)

Planning Two Shift Schedule

EAST ST. LOUIS, Ill. (AP)—The East St. Louis School District, crippled by the loss of more than 600 striking teachers, planned another attempt today to launch a two-shift class schedule so instruction can be provided for all its 24,000 students.

Striking teachers, aided by students and others, blockaded entrances to schools when district officials tried to get the platoon system under way Monday.

Nine persons were arrested on charges ranging from trespassing to aggravated assault. Five were teachers.

A 58-year-old woman teacher, Pauline Mabry, suffered a jaw fracture. Police said the woman was struck by an unidentified man as she was entering Longfellow elementary school.

A high school student who allegedly kicked a teacher in the abdomen was arrested and charged with aggravated battery. Bond for the student, identified as Carl Kennedy, 18, was set at $10,000.

Two Persons Die In Joplin Blaze

JOPLIN, Mo. (AP) — Two persons died in a fire at their home at the south edge of Joplin Monday night.

Deaths of Mrs. Billie F. Kempt, 53, and her brother, Carl Shain, 50, were caused by smoke inhalation, Coroner Henry Freund said. The bodies were blackened by smoke but were not burned much, he said.

The coroner said they died between 6:30 and 7:30 p.m., but the fire was not reported until a neighbor saw smoke at 9:30 p.m.

There was a hole around a floor furnace in the living room. Investigators were trying to determine whther it was caused by fire or by an explosion in the furnace.

Shain's body was found near the front door. Mrs. Kempt's body was on a divan in a sitting room adjoining the living room. Her pet dog was dead beside the divan.

TOO MANY BREAKS

FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP) — The state has closed its cafeterias during traditional midmorning and midafternoon coffee break hours to eliminate "elongated" breaks.

Delta Queen Has Finished Last Voyage

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — The Delta Queen, dowager sternwheeler of the Mississippi River, has finished her final trip down the Mississippi.

She was met by the Olympia Brass Band in morning black, a high school marching band and a host of dignitaries when she docked here Monday.

Because of her wooden decks and triple tier of cabins, the Queen cannot meet requirements of the Safety at Sea Act which prohibits more than 50 passengers on such vessels. Normally she has 192 passengers and a crew of 75. The operators say they could not operate at a profit with only 50 passengers.

William Mustin of Los Angeles, president of Greene Line Steamers, Inc., of Cincinnati, operator of the Delta Queen, said a Senate-approved bill to exempt the Queen from the regulations for three more years is pending in the House.

Pending the outcome, the Queen will remain in New Orleans.

Committee Chairmen Knocked Off Ballots

WASHINGTON (AP) — Chairmen of three congressional committees—two in the House and one in the Senate—were knocked off in party primaries and two Senate chairmen are involved in close elections.

But if any more House committee chairmen lose it'll be a big surprise. Six of the 19 had no opposition in today's balloting.

Chairman of four of the 16 Senate committees were up for election this year. Sen. Ralph Yarborough of Texas, chairman of the Labor and Public Welfare Committee, was beaten in the Democratic primary by Lloyd Bentsen.

Sen. Joseph D. Tydings of Maryland, chairman of the District of Columbia Committee, and Sen. Gale W. McGee of Wyoming, chairman of the Post Office and Civil Service Committee, are favored to win re-election but face tough sledding. Tydings' Republican opponent is Rep. J. Glenn Beall; McGee is opposed by Rep. John S. Wold.

Sen. Henry M. Jackson of Washington, who heads the Interior and Insular Affairs Committee, is expected to win easily over Republican Charles Elicker and two minor candidates.

Should Tydings get beaten, Sen. Alan Bible of Nevada would succeed him if Democrats, as expected, retain control of the Senate.

Should McGee lose out, Sen. Jennings Randolph of West Virginia would be in the unique position of having to choose which of three committees he wants to head. He is chairman of Public Works, is next in seniority behind Yarborough on Labor and Public Welfare, and is third behind McGee and Yarborough on Post Office and Civil Service.

The rules permit a senator to head only one committee, and although Randolph hasn't said what he'll do, aides say they feel certain he'll want to hold onto Public Works.

If this happens, Sen. Harrison A. Williams Jr. of New Jersey is next in line to head Labor, but he is involved in a close election with Republican Nelson G. Gross. Should Williams lose, Sen. Claiborne Pell of Rhode Island would move up to the no. 1 spot.

Randolph, Bible and Pell are not up for re-election this year.

Both House casualties in the primaries were from Maryland. Rep. George H. Fallon, chairman of the potent House Public Works Committee, was upset by Democrat Paul Sarbones, and Rep. Samuel N. Friedel, chairman of the Administration Committee, lost to Parren J. Mitchell.

The six House chairmen who were unopposed today are Maryland's Edward A. Garmatz of the Merchant Marine and Fisheries Committee; South Carolina's L. Mendel Rivers of Armed Services; Arkansas' Wilbur D. Mills of Ways and Means; and three Texans: W.R. Poage of Agriculture, George H. Mahon of Appropriations and Olin E. Teague of Veterans Affairs.

One House Committee chairmanship, Government Operations, was vacated by the retirement of Chairman William L. Dawson of Illinois. California's Rep. Chet Holifield is next in seniority.

Only three GOP senators in line to become chairmen—should Democrats lose control of the Senate—are up for election this year—Nebraska's Roman L. Hruska of Judiciary, Vermont's Winton L. Prouty of the District of Columbia Committee and Hawaii's Hiram L. Fong of Post Office and Civil Service.

Prouty is in a close contest with Democrat Philip H. Hoff, but Hruska and Fong are rated easy winners.

An oddity in the committee situation is that five of the seven Democratic members of the Senate Post Office Committee are up for re-election this year and all are in trouble. In addition to McGee and Yarborough, these are Sens. Vance Hartke of Indiana, Quentin N. Burdick of North Dakota and Frank E Moss of Utah.

The Candidates' Pictures

Political campaigning is over and results impend as the last of the secret ballots are deposited in the box. There will be disappointments, elations and postmortems.

One of the latter might quite properly be included by a query of a reader, Brenda, who wants to know why candidates for public office use pictures of themselves taken so long ago they misrepresent their current physical image.

All we can say is that the practice is as old as the invention of the reproduction in the printing process of photographs on engraving plates. This is especially so at election time in newspaper political advertising. But it is not confined to this season alone.

Many persons whose image through the lens of a camera has been embellished by a photographer, are reluctant to have this image changed by a later photograph revealing their declining years. Often families of a deceased person prefer printing of a picture taken years ago rather than one revealing the changes of age.

Personally, we must confess to a lapse into picture eccentricity which seems to be a part of human nature. On occasions when our picture was scheduled for publication, one was used repeatedly for 10 years although the aging process had begun to conflict with the original. So at last, when the Sedalia Democrat prepared for its centennial observance in 1968, we had our physiognomy brought up to date at a studio sitting.

With political candidates there is also the impulse to follow the lines of less resistance than going to a photographer and paying for a new picture when the newspaper's library has an old picture or negative available. Usually, then, upon instructions the advertising department goes to the files to produce the one available.

Naturally a candidate likes to look younger than he is to an upcoming generation of constituents. His older friends know better and are charitable about reflection of his true physical image. In many cases, the point is not so much the image of age as what the candidate has up there in the gray matter under his skull.

Well anyhow, Brenda we must agree with you that political candidates ought not to misrepresent features as they really are when seeking support of the electorate for public office.

Before next election time rolls around, the commercial photographers in Sedalia and elsewhere should find this subject a good one for promotional advertising. The Sedalia newspapers will lay back some extra newsprint to accommodate a campaign to encourage all political candidates to obtain a new mug shot after filing for public office.

How Does Your Garden Grow?

Washington Merry-Go-Round

Caroline Kennedy for Peace Corps

WASHINGTON — "Yes, Caroline, the Peace Corps will be here for you to join by the time you are ready." This pledge has been made to the late President John F. Kennedy's daughter, Caroline, by Peace Corps Director Joseph Blatchford.

Nearly 13 years old now, Caroline Kennedy told a reporter wistfully that she would like to serve America in the Peace Corps "if it will still be going on by the time I could join."

Jack Anderson

Her statement was read by Blatchford, who wrote her a personal letter. He urged her to join the Peace Corps and promised she would find the "ideals set forth by your father" still intact.

In this unique communication between a Nixon administration official and the daughter of the man who almost sent Nixon to political oblivion, Blatchford wrote:

"I noticed that you wondered whether there would be a Peace Corps still in operation by the time you are ready to join. Let me assure you that we fully expect to be here for quite some time to come.

"As long as there are needs to be met and people like yourself who want to help others, then the Peace Corps will continue to provide the avenue for action.

"Of course, the Peace Corps is undergoing some changes. But, as you have already learned, no institution can remain static and still retain its vigor.

"The Peace Corps must change to keep in step with the changing conditions in our world. We are almost ten years old now and change is part of growing up.

"But in growing up, we have not and will not grow away from the goals and ideals set forth by your father for this daring experiment. Those goals and ideals remain to serve as clear guidelines and a source of strength for the future.

"Yes, Caroline, the Peace Corps will be here for you to join by the time you are ready. And it will be most happy to have you."

In a handwritten P. S., Blatchford added: "I hope that your brother and cousins will share your interest in the PC and consider joining some day."

—GOP Financial Victory—

In most states, today's elections are too close to predict safely which party will come out ahead. But it is already clear who has won the contest for campaign funds.

The Republicans have won the dollar derby so decisively that there is reason to fear for the security of the two-party system.

Although the nation's lax campaign finance laws enable political givers and takers to camouflage their collections, the available figures indicate a whopping Republican advantage.

Since last year, the various GOP national committees have raked in more than $18 million while the debt-ridden Democrats have managed to raise only about $3.5 million.

Since at least four of the Democratic senatorial candidates have personal fortunes, the GOP's fund-raising triumph might not show clearly at the polls. But the implications of this trend are ominous for the future.

The prospects are poor for a candidate who cannot afford television, travel and the costly services for political PR men. Thus, in the long run, the party with the money will control the country.

In this situation, the Democrats clearly have the most to lose. Yet the Democrats in Congress have balked at changing the system. Sen. Russell Long, D-La., for example, would like the taxpayers to help finance national elections. He believes the public would be better off if their elected officials were indebted to the taxpayers, instead of the special interests.

But Long's party colleagues have given his efforts a frosty reception. Even as thoughtful a man as Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield has privately expressed doubts about campaign funding plans that would put challengers on an equal financial footing with incumbents.

President Nixon, of course, is keenly aware of the Republican financial advantage. His veto of a bill to curb campaign television spending, clearly, was good Republican politics.

The Democrats have the power to override the President's veto, but there is no certainty they will. If they do not, and fail to follow up with still other reforms, they had better start looking for a flock of millionaires to run for office.

—Vietnam Offensive—

As we have previously reported, captured documents indicate that the North Vietnamese will launch a Cambodian offensive this month. There is evidence, however, that the offensive may be intended merely to keep the Cambodian army off balance and to create general chaos.

The captured instructions reveal that the North Vietnamese continue to emphasize guerrilla rather than conventional tactics. Hanoi apparently hopes to build up a native Cambodian movement to take over the country so that any eventual conquest can be sold to the world as "liberation" instead of outright aggression.

An estimated 50,000 North Vietnamese troops are reported inside Cambodia. But less than 10,000, according to the captured documents, will be committed to the November offensive.

The majority will be used to recruit native Cambodian guerrillas, to organize liberation committees in the villages, and to establish a guerrilla operation on the South Vietnamese pattern.

Footnote: General Creighton Abrams, the U.S. commander in Vietnam, has forwarded a secret report to the Pentagon warning that most of the Viet Cong infrastructure remains intact and that the Saigon government has been infiltrated by Viet Cong from the top down to the village level. The report also declared that the South Vietnamese Army is still completely dependent upon the United States for equipment, planning and combat support.

Why Drivers Get Ax as 'Poor Risks'

By CARLTON SMITH

There are some 100 million motorists on America's streets and highways. No one knows exactly how many of them have been denied insurance because they are supposedly "poor risks," but their numbers have been increasing by leaps and bounds.

It's related to what a major insurance-industry organization calls a national crisis.

In this insurance crisis, it's not always the reckless or incompetent driver who gets dumped. Good drivers sometimes wind up in a group labeled "poor risk" by an insurance company or group. One reported example is a prejudice against anyone nicknamed "Butch."

The explanation of why that apparently nonsensical rule can make sense to an insurance company will also help to explain what you can do to get or hold onto your insurance, and what shape you're in if the ax does fall.

We start with the fact that, in the past 10 years, the auto insurance industry has sustained underwriting losses of around $2 billion on liability insurance alone. Over loud and angry protests, premium rates have risen sharply year after year—but not enough to relieve a painful financial squeeze on the insurance companies.

There are three main reasons for the underwriting losses. One is the staggering size that repair bills have reached for even minor collisions.

A second is the back-breaking cost of medical care paid for by insurers. For example, the cost of a hospital room alone soared 97.2 per cent between 1962 and 1969.

A third factor causing the enormous outlay for insurance claims may lie at the heart of the crisis. It's our litigation system for fixing the blame and awarding damages.

Determining who was at fault in auto accidents created an estimated 220,000 lawsuits in 1968—and used up 17 per cent of our nation's entire judicial resources. Damage-suit winners collected $700 million—about $420 million of which went to their lawyers. Another $180 million in fees was collected by defendants' lawyers.

And our "fault" system of awarding insurance benefits is not only costly. It has come under sharp attack recently by T. Lawrence Jones, president of the American Insurance Association, on a half-dozen counts.

Among his charges, Jones called the system "worthless" as a deterrent to careless driving (backed by a government study of driver behavior) and said it results in "exaggeration, distortion and sometimes outright fabrication of facts in the quest for insurance dollars."

That is why some insurers take a dim view of "Butch." As they picture it, anyone called "Butch" is likely to make a poor showing in court—no matter how in the right he actually was—when he's being sued by the widow of the late Sunday School superintendent.

There's not much you can do about this aspect of the insurance turmoil, except think about the merits of the "no-fault" system favored by the American Insurance Association. But in the effort to limit their losses, companies are weeding out high-risk drivers in a number of ways and here the car owner and driver can often take measures to protect his insurability or avoid high-cost ratings.

Opening lead—♥ 3

That argument between four-card and five-card bidders of major suits has been going on for a long time and it is doubtful if it will ever be settled. We stand pretty close to the five-card addicts but don't go all the way. Somehow or other, there will always be hands that really cry out for a four-card major suit opening.

Not many of them will be in spades. You should try to avoid opening a four-card spade suit. The reason is that a spade opening makes it impossible for partner to respond at the one level in any suit. A heart opening leaves spades available. When you open one club, every other suit is waiting there for you.

That is the basis for the use of three-card club openings. They aren't panacea for all bidding ills. They are a nice all-purpose bid when you have 4-3-3-3 distribution or with other holdings that do not include a long suit.

All except the most fanatical four-card majorities would open today's South hand with one club. Not that it would make much difference in the final contract. This is one hand where all bids lead to four spades.

The heart opening lead makes it easy for South to play dummy's 10. There is always a strong presumption that a defender does not lead away from an ace against a suit contract.

East's best return is a club. This will speed up the play, since the defense will probably proceed to take two club tricks. After that start, South will make the rest of the tricks with great ease.

Arabs Leery of Soviet 'Buddies'

By RAY CROMLEY
NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON — For some months now the White House, the State Department and the Department of Defense, by hints, backgrounders and part-statements have been making it clear that this government believes there is danger the Middle East could bring a Soviet-United States confrontation so serious it could end in war.

A major part of the problem is that the Russians are making such great headway in the area and have so committed themselves to radical regimes that they lose sight of caution.

It is pointed out that the Russians have not stopped with supplying the Egyptians with modern arms and military advisers. Before the cease-fire, Russian pilots were flying fighter planes in Egypt against the Israeli.

The Russian position looks strong on the surface. The Kremlin's gains in the area have been dramatic. They have allies where they did not have them before. They have made major strides toward acquiring air bases on the borders of the Mediterranean which can threaten Europe's southern flank and make the "Med" unlivable for Western fleets in time of war. Doors have been opened to wider Soviet oil exploration and to possibly very profitable Soviet partnership in the oil wealth of some of the Arab countries.

But these very Soviet successes could well lead to failure.

The Russians must keep the conflict with Israel going so that the Arabs will need them. But the Kremlin cannot allow the Arabs to win enough of what they want to be satisfied.

The Soviet Union, therefore, must always be stirring things up and quieting them down at the same time.

With no settlement of Mideast tensions, more Arabs are going to be asking themselves what actual gains have come from Russian help.

For a time, public opinion can be diverted by blaming the United States for arming the Israeli and standing in the way of a "just" settlement. But despite public pronouncements by the Russians championing the Arabs and by both Russians and Egyptians castigating the United States, this reporter has good reason to believe, if his contacts are correct, that Arab suspicion of Russian intentions and effectiveness is growing.

Even more troublesome for the Russians is that they have now entered into such close alliances with some regimes and some factions in Arab countries that they are strongly mistrusted by other groups. Politics in most leading Arab nations is so volatile that the outs may be in tomorrow and throw out the Russians sympathizers.

In addition, the rivalries among Syria, Egypt, Iraq and Saudi Arabia are so strong that any nation moving into an intimate relationship with any of them gets caught willy-nilly, sooner or later, in deep and bitter Arab "family" quarrels. In the end this can make Russia more enemies than friends.

The Palestinian commando-guerrilla groups are already bitter against the Russians.

If the United States handles this situation with some imagination, the Russians will find it more difficult to convince Arabs that this country is against them and on the side of the Israeli. If Washington can sell Arab public opinion that we are friends of both Arabs and the Israeli and are not prepared to back either side against the other, this reporter has reason to know that some of the Arabs now making the most belligerent speeches in public, will be more than willing to gradually to loosen their ties with Russia.

For the reasons outlined above this reporter is convinced that the Russian position in the Middle East is basically so precarious that Moscow is not likely to take a dangerously strong stand in that area. But the Kremlin will surely go as far as Russia's rulers think they can safely go, talking belligerently all the while.

Obey Directions Faithfully In Taking Digitalis

By LAWRENCE E. LAMB, M.D.

Dear Doctor — I have had my chest fluoroscoped and the heart specialist said I have a very tiny heart. I have tachycardia attacks and have a lot of dizziness each day. Digitalis seems to help, but I'm concerned that, if I take it all the time, it will eventually build up poisons and not work any more.

Dear Reader — Digitalis is often given to patients to control or prevent irregularities of the heart and sometimes to improve the heart function or correct heart failure. It is a very important medicine. No patient taking digitalis should ever discontinue the medicine unless his doctor tells him to do so.

Usually, each patient has to be studied awhile to find out what is the right amount of digitalis he should take for a particular purpose. This is sometimes difficult for the physician to determine and, if the patient doesn't follow the doctor's instructions, it becomes impossible.

Digitalis can indeed become a poison, so to speak, and we call this digitalis intoxication. Even the best heart specialists often have trouble telling whether the patient needs more or less digitalis, since both heart disease and too much digitalis cause similar problems.

The body does not develop a resistance to digitalis to the point that it won't work any more. It is true that patients develop tolerance to certain medicines, but digitalis is not one of them. Keep taking your digitalis unless your doctor thinks you are getting too much, then follow his directions carefully to the letter.

Dear Doctor — You state that you consider coffee inimical to the best welfare of the heart. My question is this: Does this apply to decaffeinated coffee?

Dear Reader — The caffeine in the coffee seems to be the main problem. It is a powerful stimulant or drug. I am not convinced that some people with indigestion or ulcer symptoms should drink decaffeinated coffee, since the other ingredients in coffee may have some effects on the digestion. If you have indigestion, burning in the pit of the stomach or excess acidity, perhaps it would be wise to stop all forms of coffee. If your problem is relieved, you can try a decaffeinated product and find out if it causes the indigestion to return or not.

Now, of course, if you use cream in your coffee, that adds to your fat intake. Cream contains saturated fats. The same is true for most commercial cream substitutes. Sugar in coffee is another source of calories. By the end of a year, two cups of coffee a day or any type with lots of cream and sugar will account for a number of pounds of excess fat, unless you expend the excess calories by your level of physical activity.

Stop Rugs from Sliding With Thin Foam Rubber

By POLLY CRAMER

DEAR POLLY—I have satisfactorily solved Mrs. N. N.'s problem with her mother's crocheted rugs sliding on the floor by buying sheets of thin foam rubber to place between the rug and the floor. This comes in various colors and sizes and can be bought at most variety stores. Cut it slightly smaller than the rug so it does not show but will grip the rug to the floor when stepped on. For extra large rugs these sheets can be taped together and then cut to size.—MRS. G. V.

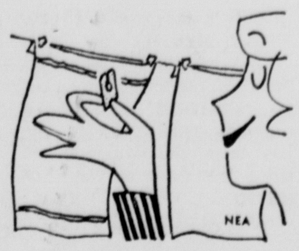

DEAR POLLY—Mrs. N. N. could sew rubber jar rings on the underside of her mother's crocheted rugs. The rugs will not slide on the floor.—WILMA

DEAR POLLY—Plastic bags from the cleaners could be put under Mrs. N. N.'s rugs to keep them from sliding. I enjoy the Pointers and find many of them make my work easier so I paste them on the inside of a cupboard door or in a drawer nearest the area in which they would be used. —ANN

Polly's Problem

DEAR POLLY—Between many washings, and perhaps a small weight gain, my polyester dresses seem too short. I lowered the hems on a couple of them but cannot find a way to remove the crease where the original hems were. Do you have the secret trick or is there a way?—DODIE

DEAR POLLY—While on a camping trip I started to hang up the towels, bathing suits, etc., and realized I had forgotten my clothespins. Trying to find something I could "make do" with I picked up some of those little plastic squares with a hole in the center that come around bread and bun packages. I used them to hold my towels on the line and they worked fine. They do not blow off and could easily be saved for this purpose as they require less packing space than regular clothespins.—SHIRLEY

Notre Dame Vaults Into Second Place

By KEN RAPPOPORT
Associated Press Sports Writer

Six, five, four, three, two . . . Notre Dame is moving up.

One, two, three . . . Ohio State is moving out.

But there's still room at the top for the Texas Longhorns, who remained No. 1 for the second week in the Associated Press' college football poll Monday.

Notre Dame's crack Irish troops have marched about a place a week since September, supplanting Ohio State as the No. 2 team. The Buckeyes, who were the front-runners until bumped by Texas two weeks ago, retreated to third.

The Fighting Irish's tall story doesn't impress Coach Ara Parseghian, who insists it's a long, long time from September to November.

"It (the poll) has no effect on us now," he said. "We're more interested in the polls in late November (at the end of the regular season).

Notre Dame won its sixth in a row last Saturday by staggering helpless Navy 56-7, and Parseghian was accused in some quarters of running up the score. But Navy Coach Rick Forzano wouldn't buy it.

"It could have been much worse," said Forzano, "I talked to Ara after the game and told him I realized they could have put the ball in the air more, and that I appreciate that they didn't. He didn't run the score up. He was as fair as fair can be."

Sports writers and broadcasters around the country handed 20 first place votes to Texas for a total of 701 points, a fingertip 17-point lead over Notre Dame's 684. Ohio State had 617 in the too-close-for-comfort race.

Texas shut down quarterback Chuck Hixson's Magnificent Flying Machine in beating Southern Methodist 42-15 over the weekend and Ohio State slapped Northwestern 24-10.

Nebraska, Michigan and Stanford stayed 4-5-6 with impressive weekend victories, Arkansas and Tennessee each moved up a spot to seventh and eighth, Air Force slumped from seventh to ninth and Auburn rounded out the top ten.

The Top Twenty teams, with first-place votes in parentheses and total points. Points tabulated on basis of 20-18-16-14-12-10-9-8 etc.:

Mules Become a Power

WARRENSBURG — Central Missouri State College football coach Howard Mahanes with his win Saturday over the University of Missouri at Rolla, became the first coach in CMSC history to win seven or more games in two seasons.

Mahanes' 1968 squad posted a 7-1-1 record in season's play, advanced to the Mineral Water Bowl, but lost to Doane (Neb.) to end the year at 7-2-1.

With the 34-7 victory over the Miners, Mahanes stretched his season's total for the year to 7-1. The Mules could do as well as 9-1, if his Mules defeat their final two foes of the season. They include Lincoln University this Saturday and Southeast Missouri State College on Nov. 21.

Mule Mentor Howard Mahanes

With Saturday's win over Rolla, Mahanes not only posted his second seven-win season at the Mules' helm, but he advanced his MIAA coaching mark to 29-16-1. He has been the Mules coach since the start of the 1966 season.

His overall coaching record now stands at 96-32-3. Prior to coming to Warrensburg, Mahanes was the head coach at Ft. Scott (Kan.) Junior College. Included in the 96-32-3 figure is also an impressive 30-5-1 slate at Galena (Kan.) High School.

But even with the 7-1 record, the Mules' mentor has in his grasp at the present time, he still finds himself out of first place in the Missouri Intercollegiate Athletic Association's race.

Northeast Missouri State, who tripped the Mules in Vernon Kennedy Stadium on Oct. 24, still continue to lead the league with a mark of 3-0. Central Missouri is in second place with a record of 3-1, while Southeast follows at 2-1.

The Mules came out of Saturday's game without any injuries, but it looks like in the fourth quarter that junior linebacker Bobby Steele might be lost with a shoulder separation. Monday it was announced that Steele was only suffering from a seriously pinched nerve in his neck and that he would probably be back in action for Saturday's contest with Lincoln.

Senior quarterback Steve Eckinger moved his passing yardage figure to 1427 yards for the season by completing 17 of 36. This total figure is a little over 100 yards short of last year's passing mark when he threw for 1,537 yards on 89 of 188 passes.

With two more games left on the slate, he could well surpass last year's figure.

Ira Clemons moved his rushing yardage figure to 752 yards on 148 carries during the game. Against the Miners the 200-pound sophomore running back racked up 119 yards on 26 attempts.

Senior wide receiver Eddie Coates caught four passes for 110 yards, moving his receiving figure for the season to 656 yards on 33 catches. This compares to last year's final figure of 916 yards on 51 receptions. He also added another touchdown grab against Rolla, his seventh of the season.

With a healthy squad, Mahanes moves into Jefferson City Saturday afternoon to tangle with the speedy Tigers' squad. And with an offense and defense that seemingly has jelled following the loss to Northeast, he is only hopeful that one of the other MIAA schools can upset the only team that has handed him a setback this season.

76ers Roll Up Victory

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The New York Knicks were in the midst of their record 18-game winning streak at this time a year ago in the National Basketball Association.

Now the Cleveland Cavaliers are in the midst of setting a league record in reverse.

The Cavaliers, who have yet to win, were trounced by the Philadelphia 76ers Monday night 141-87. It was Cleveland's 11th straight defeat.

That leaves the Cavaliers only four games shy of the NBA's longest losing winning streak at the start of a season, 15 by Denver back in Oct.-Dec. 1949.

And if, perchance, Cleveland lost 18 straight that would erase the current longest losing streak of 17, set by San Francisco in 1965 and equalled by San Diego in 1968.

In Tuesday's other NBA games, the Knicks beat San Francisco 111-99 and Phoenix tripped Buffalo 110-92. Unbeaten Utah made it seven in a row whipping Memphis 119-100 in the only American Basketball Association game.

Philadelphia's whopping 54-point margin over Cleveland was the most for the 76ers since a 46-point spread over San Francisco in 1948. The 76ers led by as much as 59 Monday night.

Archie Clark led the balanced 76er attack against the expansion team with 21 points. Jim Washington added 19 for the winners. John Johnson was high for Cleveland with 20.

Phoenix caught Buffalo with its shooters cold and grabbed a 62-44 halftime lead. The expansion Braves shot only 26 per cent from the floor in the first half, and went the first four minutes without a field goal.

Connie Hawkins led the Suns with 29 points and Mike Davis netted 21 for the Braves.

The Knicks went on a 12-2 tear against the Warriors in a 90-second span of the second period to open up a 13-point lead and never were headed. Walt Frazier topped New York with 27 points while Jerry Lucas was high for San Francisco with 20.

Zelmo Beaty and Donnie Freeman each scored eight points in the last eight minutes as Utah broke open a close game. Beaty and Freeman each had 28 points to lead Utah. Craig Raymond rifled in 21 for Memphis.

Lou Hudson Jumps Up in NBA Race

NEW YORK (AP) — Lou Hudson of the Atlanta Hawks jumped from sixth to second place in the National Basketball Association individual scoring race, the official weekly NBA statistics showed today. Lew Alcindor, of the Milwaukee Bucks, remained No. 1.

Hudson scored 102 points in his last three games, including 43 against Cleveland on Sunday, to boost his average to 29.4 per game. Alcindor's leading average is 32.3.

Alcindor's 77 of 123 field goals kept him at the top of the best shooters from the field with an average of .626. Veteran Wilt Chamberlain of Los Angeles also remained the top rebounder with an average of 22.1.

Grems' Starters

At Otterville

Grems Open Slate

For the third time in as many years, the Sacred Heart Gremlins will open the basketball season with a different coach. The Grems, two years ago coached by Jim Gladbach and last year by Mike Brosnahan, will take the court tonight for their initial outing of the season against a small, but aggressive Otterville squad. The new head coach for the Grems this year is Tom Beer, a graduate of Southwest Baptist College at Bolivar.

The red and white's offense is altogether different from that of 1969. Beer is relying on a double post as his basic offensive set for the season.

The defense will be somewhat different from last year's — Beer said Monday that he was going to open up with a full court press, as well as playing man to man underneath.

Coach Beer has a problem that most coaches in the Kaysinger Conference wished they had — depth. "I feel as if there are ten or 11 men we could start," commented the Gremlin head at lunch Monday, "but we can just start five."

Tonight's opener will find senior Darrell Cook and Bill Straka, a junior, in the double post. Although not blessed with great height, Beer should control the boards with most of the teams he faces this season, with most of his starters going over the six-foot level.

On the outside front line will be senior Pete Boss and sophomore Bill Freund. Boss was a starter last year, but for Freund, it will be his first time as a starter in a varsity game. Both Boss and Freund are better than average outside shooters.

At the point position of the Grems' offense will be senior John Coxon, who sat out a good portion of last season with a knee injury.

A junior face that is likely to see a lot of action this season is Steve Karigan. Karigan checks in around 6'3".

Adding to Beer's depth is a list of sophomores that include Mike Borchers, Jeff Karigan and Mike Dunham. Juniors Pat McFadden and Chuck Mergen will also give depth for the red and white.

Looking at his first game, Beer indicated that Otterville opened their season against another Kaysinger Conference foe — Otterville. "In that game," he said, "they used a 1-3-1 zone offense, with a 2-3 and a 2-1-2 defense."

Following tonight's opener at Otterville, the Gremlins return home to take on another non-conference foe Thursday night, that being Lone Jack.

In addition to the Sacred Heart-Otterville clash, other Kaysinger Conference schools also open their season as well.

They include a non-league match between Stover and Smithton at Stover and Warsaw meeting, non-loop foe Osceola on the road.

Cole Camp, Northwest of Hughesville and Green Ridge, all of whom have played and won one game so far this year, also take to the court. Cole Camp travels to Climax Springs, Northwest goes to LaMonte, while Green Ridge is at Calhoun. All the games are non-conference contests.

Other area games find Kingsville at Montrose, Deepwater at Chilhowee. The first is a Golden Valley Conference match, while the second is a non-league affair.

Casper Leading Money Winner

NEW YORK (AP) — Billy Casper remained golf's No. 1 money winner for the year and Lee Trevino retained his lead in the point race, based on tournament finishes, weekly statistics showed Monday.

The figures from the PGA Tournament Players Division show Casper with winnings of $146,372 to $140,286 for runnerup Jack Nicklaus.

Trevino, who didn't play in the Sahara Open won by Babe Hiskey, had his point lead shaved to one-half point by Bruce Crampton. Trevino has 1,336.1 points, Crampton 1,335.6.

Hiskey's $20,000 first prize in the Sahara, increased his 1970 earnings to $26,625.70.

On Drugs

Ex-Pro Says Use is Heavy

NEW YORK (AP) — The football player who thrills millions on television screens Saturday and Sunday afternoons is a synthetic product who often is fed drugs and illegal payoffs under the table, charges an ex-pro player.

"When I got to the National Football League I saw players fed, at an astonishing rate, not only steroids but also amphetamines and barbituates," says Dave Meggyesy, a former linebacker for the St. Louis Cardinals.

"A lot of NFL trainers do more dealing in drugs than an average junkie."

Meggyesy's explosive statements are made in the latest issue of Look Magazine, which is running abstracts of Meggyesy's new book entitled "Out Of Their League."

Meggyesy, who formerly played at Syracuse University, quit pro football because he said it was "dehumanizing." He said he had been offered a $35,000 contract to play with the Cardinals this season but turned it down because of the brutality of the sport.

"Now, after playing for 14 years, I can't really say if there is any basic worth to the game," he said. "I can't separate the game from the pay-offs-approval, money, adulation."

Discussing the drug problem, Meggyesy said, "There are pro teams that dispense amphetamines and barbituates like penny candy."

He said he first became disillusioned with football when he played at Syracuse University.

"One of the big shocks of my freshman year was finding out that a lot of the guys were getting paid under the table," he said. He said arrangements were made for him to pick up $30 a week in a brown manila envelope. Other players got more, he added.

Under National Collegiate Athletic Association regulations, an athlete is permitted to receive only payment for tuition, board, books and $15 a month for laundry.

"When a player is injured," Meggyesy also charged, "he is sent to the team physician who is usually more concerned with getting the athlete back into action than anything else. This reversal of priorities leads to unbelievable abuses."

At Syracuse, Chancellor John Corbally, Jr., and Head Coach Ben Schwartzwalder declined comment. In New York, Don Weiss, NFL public relations director, said: "We have no interest whatever in promoting the sale of Meggyesy's book."

College Grid Notes

NEW YORK (AP) — Hanging out the college football wash:

Maryland Coach Roy Lester was singing the blues after Clemson scored 21 points in the final period to beat the Terrapins 24-11.

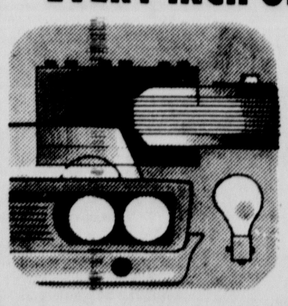

"If I'm not doing the proper job I'm willing to relinquish the job," he said after Maryland suffered its seventh loss in eight games. "It's not the kids' fault; it's mine."

This Saturday's Washington-Stanford telecast has been extended by ABC into nearly all of the East, with the exception of Pittsburgh, which will see Purdue-Michigan State. The East originally was scheduled to receive the Louisiana State-Alabama contest, which now will be shown in the Southeast and a small section of the Southwest.

ABC also has announced three of its four Wild Card games for Nov. 14. As reported here last week, they are Ohio State-Purdue, Georgia-Auburn and Utah-Arizona State.

Fordham University will retire Vince Lombardi's old No. 40 prior to Saturday's homecoming game against Georgetown. The six surviving members of the Seven Blocks of Granite of the late 1930s will be on hand.

People in Sedalia and the surrounding area have been knocking their football team at Smith-Cotton and saying the administration is not athletically minded, but they certainly can't pull any punches at track and cross country coach Gary Pepin.

Pepin has only been at Smith-Cotton for two years, but last season he instituted a cross country program and won the conference track meet. So far this year he has won all but three of his cross meets and helped qualify the harriers for state competition in Columbia Saturday.

Pepin, who built a track power at California High School before coming into the Sedalia system, guided the Smith-Cotton runners Saturday in the district cross country meet in Kansas City's Swope Park.

The Tigers, led by senior Paul Klover, who placed third in the individual competition, won second place at the district meet, thereby qualifying them to compete in the state meet Saturday at Columbia's A. J. Gustin Golf Course.

Although Paul Klover turned in his second best time of the season in Saturday's run, the Bengals will be hard pushed to finish real high in the state finals.

Coach Pepin admits himself that five or six schools are the only ones that could be considered as top contenders. They include Raytown South, Oak Park (Kansas City), Riverview Gardens (St. Louis), Parkway Central (St. Louis) and Kirkwood.

That's not the real issue. People in and around the Sedalia community have wanted a winner . . . and now they have one.

Talk is again circulating in Mexico and Sedalia about dropping out of the Central Missouri Conference. But a check with officials at Smith-Cotton produced nothing to indicate that the school board is really considering leaving the five-team conference.

But in Mexico, things don't look the same. Over recent years, the athletic staffs at Mexico High School have voiced a desire to drop out of the CMC. But, according to past reports, the board of education there has not wanted to do so.

This year, according to a source in Columbia, things may be in for a change.

Bill Clark, sports editor of the Columbia Tribune, indicated Monday by telephone that the board had decided to go along with the athletic department and drop out of the conference, which includes, in addition to Sedalia, Jefferson City, Columbia and Hannibal.

No one in Mexico could be reached for a valid comment on such a decision, but according to Clark, the Bulldogs were planning on entering the Mid-State Conference. Since Moberly will be leaving the league at the close of the season, the size would be the same — seven teams. However, Clark stated that Boonville may possibly leave the one-year old conference as well.

Included in the Mid-State Conference at the present time is Moberly, Jefferson City Helias, Fulton, Rolla, Waynesville, Lebanon and Boonville.

The last member to drop out of the Central Missouri Conference was Rolla; they did so at the conclusion of the 1968 season.

M. L. Cox, 211 East Morgan, considers he had a successful year fishing. Last summer he made 43 trips and caught 183 fish totaling 1,153 pounds with the use of only two rods and reels.

Since he is a carp fisherman, all the fish he caught were carp. His favorite spot is the J. H. Carp Lake, near Marshall; and all the fish he caught were taken from that lake, with exception of 50 pounds.

The big ones (as usual) got away; he feels that they would have weighed in around 40 pounds. But the largest he caught weighed 17 pounds, with the smallest going around four pounds.

Gibson Named Lineman

KANSAS CITY (AP) — This undoubtedly will come as a surprise to some people but linebacker Oscar Gibson of Kansas State was named Big Eight Conference lineman of the week today.

Even Gibson himself may be surprised, not because he didn't turn in an outstanding performance in the Wildcats' 17-14 victory Saturday over Missouri.

He turned in a brilliant performance. However, the Kansas State coaches nominated defensive tackle Ron Yankowski.

For the first time in history, a panel of sports writers took it upon itself to override a nomination and selected Gibson unanimously.

Gibson, a 233-pound senior, made six tackles and 12 tackle assists, including two for losses, and made a general nuisance of himself as far as Missouri was concerned all afternoon.

He got a lot of heat on the Tigers' quarterback, Chuck Roper, and led the first half blitz that had Missouri struggling to overcome a 10-point deficit. In short he had a big hand in stopping everything Missouri had to offer, including the running of James Harrison and Bill Mauer.

Yankowski, the Wildcat coaches' nomination, made five initial stops and aided on six other tackles. He blocked one pass and was another strong rusher on the Missouri quarterback.

"Oscar Gibson played tremendous football," said Wildcat Coach Vince Gibson. "He's the leader of our defense.

"We couldn't let Harrison run. Oscar was assigned to Harrison, and he shut him off."

Missouri Coach Dan Devine agreed. "He has good movement, and he's quick," Devine said. "He's a fine football player."

Five other linemen were nominated, including sophomore defensive tackle Pat Ryan of Kansas, defensive tackle Kevin Grady of Oklahoma, defensive end Joe Coyle of Oklahoma State, offensive guard Bill Kralicek of Colorado and offensive end Guy Ingles of Nebraska.

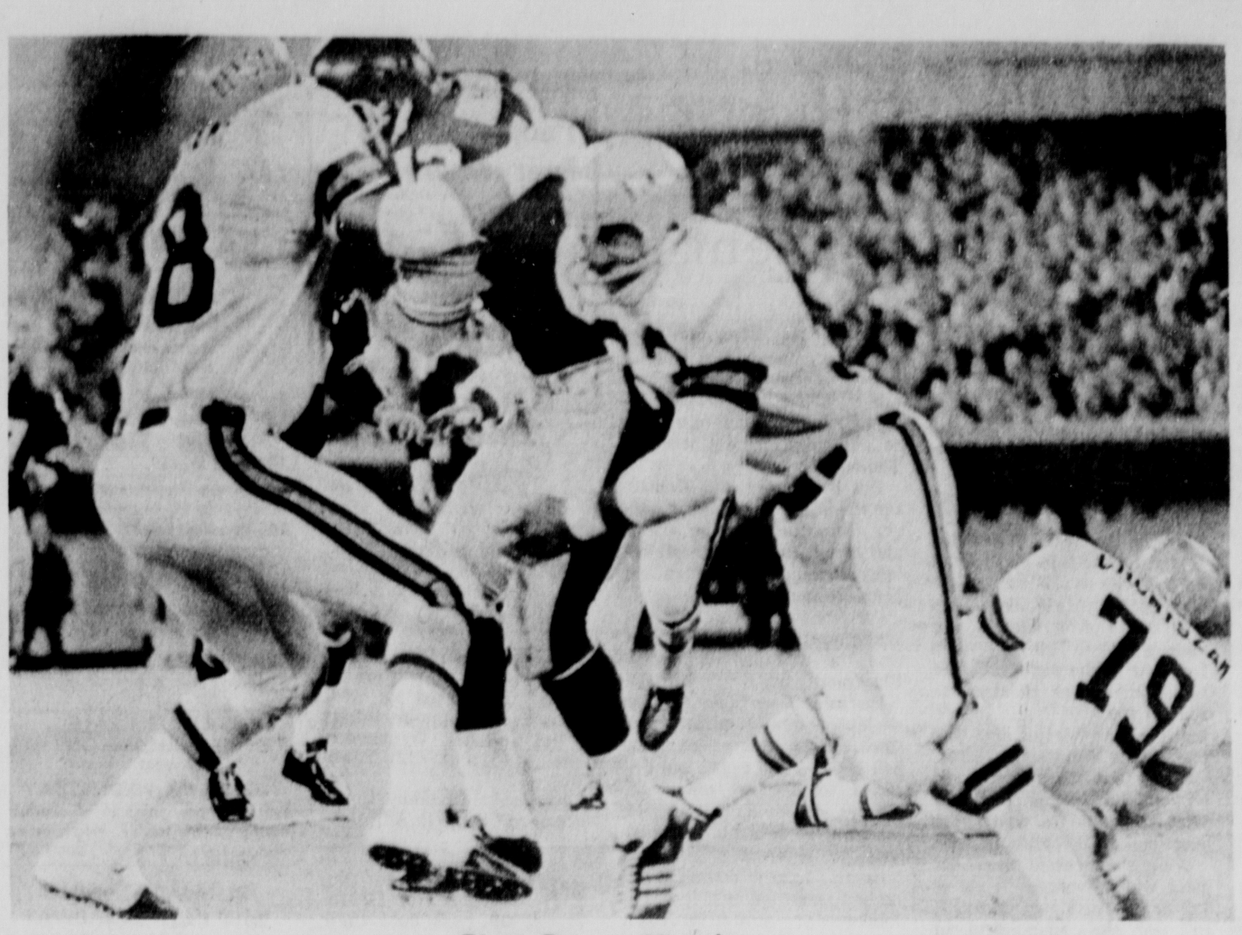

Dave Soutar Wins Bowling Tournament

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Dave Soutar got past Nelson Burton Jr. by a whisker Monday night in their head-and-head duel through the finals of the $50,000 Bellows-Valvair Open bowling tournament.

Soutar lost his final game of the tournament to Burton, 235-219, and Burton actually knocked down more pins than Soutar, 9,462 to 9,389, but Soutar wound up with a two-pin edge by virtue of bonus points earned for victories in match games.

First-Down Yardage

Steeler's quarterback Terry Bradshaw is stopped by Cincinnati's Al Beauchamp (left) and Royce Berry after running eight yards for a Pittsburgh first down during Monday night's NFL encounter in Pittsburgh. The Steelers went on to take the contest, 21-10. (UPI)

Hanratty Leads Steelers

PITTSBURGH (AP)—A frustrated Terry Bradshaw vows he won't play second fiddle to Terry Hanratty after this season.

The golden haired Pittsburgh Steeler rookie quarterback has not been the cure-all quarterback he was billed to be and now he admits he's pressing.

Pittsburgh defeated the Cincinnati Bengals 21-10 Monday night, but it was Hanratty, coming off the bench, who bailed out the Steelers in the fourth quarter. He threw a touchdown pass and led them to another score.

"I'll never sit on the bench behind a second-year man," Bradshaw said. "It's obvious Coach (Chuck) Noll will have to make a decision at the end of the year. He's given me all the chance in the world but I haven't done anything. And if I'm going to be on the bench, I want to play behind a veteran so I can learn.

"I really don't mind if I don't start. But Terry's young and I'm young. If the coach says he's No. 1, fine, then ship me out. I just wouldn't be happy playing behind him."

Bradshaw started the nationally televised game but Hanratty took over midway in the third quarter with the Steelers behind 10-7.

For the night, Bradshaw, pro football's No. 1 draft choice, completed only four of 12 passes for 40 yards. Hanratty was seven for 11 and 128 yards.

"He looked unsettled," said Noll of Bradshaw.

"It's getting to me now," said Bradshaw. "I'm really unhappy with myself. I just have to go and search myself. I need to sit on the bench. I definitely think Terry deserves to start."

The thought of later attending a seminary also continued on Bradshaw's mind.

"I feel called to do that kind of work. I also feel called to play football. I've always thought if I could make it big in this game, then it would help attract people to the other."

Meanwhile, Hanratty was keeping silent.

"Each to his own," he replied when asked about Bradshaw's remarks.

The victory was admittedly sweet for Hanratty but even as he savored the taste of success he would not comment on possibly starting.

"Every quarterback wants to start," he said. "But I'll leave the decision up to the coach."

Hanratty unleashed a 72-yard touchdown bomb in the fourth quarter to tight end Dennis Hughes on a play which called for him to pass to receiver Dave Smith. But Smith was covered.

Safety Kenny Graham had an arm on Hughes, but when he he caught the ball at the 25 Hughes got away.

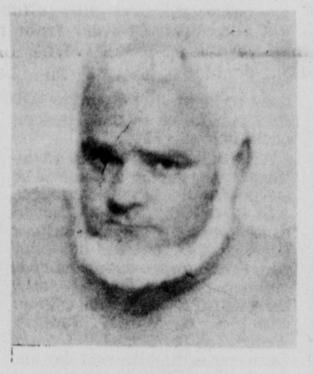

Hanratty then led the Steelers 75 yards in nine plays for another touchdown in the fourth quarter. Warren Bankston scored from the one.

Neither the Bengals nor the Steelers sparkled in the first half. The Bengals scored on a one-yard pass in the second quarter from Virgil Carter to Eric Crabtree after Crabtree had caught a 29-yard pass, taking the ball to the one.

But the Steelers took the kickoff and drove for the tying score.

Running back Dick Hoak heaved a wobbly underthrow pass from the 27 yard line on an option play and Hughes grabbed it at the five and scampered with the score.

Killer Cox Back To Highlight Mat Card

Killer Cox

Danny Little Bear

Boisterous Killer Cox returns to the Convention Hall wrestling arena tonight to join with three other burly heavyweights in tag team action.

The 255-pound warrior will captain a quartet that includes Central States kingpin Natureboy Kirby, unpredictable Rock Hunter and devious Benny Ramirez.

That powerful four-man "wrecking crew" will try to do heavy damage to a foursome made up of Danny Little Bear, Rufus Jones, Tito Copa and the Stomper.

Included in the two units are most of the top heavyweights in the Missouri-Kansas area. Kirby and Little Bear have had a running battle since last spring over the C.S. title. Jones and Hunter have come to regard each other as bitter enemies, and Cox usually is most everybody's target.

The pace figures to be extra rough because of the fact there'll be so many wrestlers involved. Stomper is one of the most powerful wrestlers around and is expected to set the pace for his side. It's equally certain Cox and his mates will attempt to separate the other team and gang up against one man whenever the possibility presents itself.

Stomper will tackle the vicious Hunter in one of the separate matches on the card. Another will pit the clever Ramirez against the hefty Jones.

Set, too, are clashes between Cox and Little Bear, who were rivals last season, and between Copa and Kirby. Starting time is 8:15.

Clarify Sunday Penalty

KANSAS CITY (AP) — The storm of controversy over Oakland's 17-17 pro football tie with Kansas City continued today but there was clarification on one major point:

Oakland's Ben Davidson was justified in tackling Kansas City quarterback Len Dawson, the incident which touched off a wild melee with only a minute remaining in Sunday's game.

It was the manner in which Davidson tackled Dawson which caused referee Bob Finley to step off 15 yards against Oakland.

The fight started after Dawson ran 19 yards to the Oakland 29. Davidson jumped on Dawson, and wide receiver Otis Taylor of the Chiefs jumped on Davidson and started swinging both fists.

At first, it was believed Davidson piled on Dawson after the quarterback was tackled. Films show that Dawson had not been tackled but stumbled to the ground when he tripped over one of his own players.

When Taylor dived into Davidson, he drew a 15-yard penalty, offsetting the Davidson penalty, nullifying the play and returning the ball to the original scrimmage line.

After order was restored eight or 10 minutes later, the Chiefs had to kick, and the Raiders moved to Kansas City's 41-yard line on Daryle Lamonica's passing. With three seconds left, George Blanda tied the game with a 48-yard field goal.

The game's outcome was extremely important. Oakland's tie lifted it into first place in the American Football Conference's West Division. A Kansas City victory would have elevated the Chiefs into a tie for first with Denver. As it turned out, Kansas City remained in third place.

NU, I-State Are Healthy

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Big Eight football teams were prepared to put in some serious licks today after taking it easy in Monday's practice.

Iowa State didn't work out at all, but heard a scouting report on Nebraska. Coach Johnny Majors said the Cyclones suffered no new injuries in their 29-28 loss to Oklahoma.

Coach Bob Devaney of Nebraska, bothered by bowl talk and bowl scouts, said "the next bowl game is in Ames, Iowa. Iowa State is a team with great potential . . . We can't afford to take anyone lightly."

Devaney said his Huskers were in good shape after the Colorado game.

Rain and wind hit Kansas State and Missouri, and both cut their workouts short.

Missouri Coach Dan Devine said three players who missed the K-State game should be healed enough to face Oklahoma this week. They are quarterback Mike Farmer, defensive back George Fountain and linebacker Sam Britts.

Oklahoma State's Coach Floyd Gass expressed pride in the running attack which netted 250 yards against Kansas. He said the Cowboys stayed on the ground rather than "take too many chances with passes and possibly lose our lead." Oklahoma State goes to K-State Saturday.

Kansas nursed new injuries. Tom Gaughan, offensive tackle who suffered an ankle sprain early in the OSU game, may not be able to go against Colorado. Larry Brown, tight end, missed practice because of a thigh bruise. He also re-injured a knee Saturday, but is expected to be ready for the Buffs.

Colorado has a grass stadium field, so the Jayhawks are practicing on grass this week.

At Boulder, Coach Eddie Crowder said his club should be in top shape for Kansas.

Coach Chuck Fairbanks said his Oklahoma Sooners should have more confidence after overcoming a 21-0 deficit against Iowa State.

"I know we experienced a great letdown in the last-minute loss to Kansas State," he said. "If we had failed in that last drive at Iowa State it would have been awfully hard on our squad."

New York Seeks Heavyweight Bout

NEW YORK (AP) — Madison Square Garden has thrown its hat into the ring in an attempt to get the Muhammad Ali-Oscar Bonavena fight.

"We're working on it, and we should know in 24 hours," Harry Markson, the garden's boxing director said Monday night.

Several places, including arenas in Atlanta and Miami, have put their bids in for the Dec. 7 heavyweight fight.

Ali, who beat Jerry Quarry a week ago in Atlanta, signed to oppose Bonavena for Chris Dundee, a Miami Beach promoter.

"But Ali is more interested in having the fight here," said Terry Brennan, the Garden matchmaker," and Dundee is willing to turn the contract over to us for a fee."

Jerry Quarry Plans To Pay Boxing Fine

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Jerry Quarry wants to get in good standing with the California Athletic Commission by paying his $1,000 fine but the heavyweight boxer will have to have a hearing first.

Quarry, from nearby Bellflower, told a news conference Monday that he has no retirement plans after his loss to Muhammad Ali Oct. 26 and will pay the fine to lift his home state suspension.

However, a hearing before the commission will be required before Quarry's suspension could be lifted, said Bob Voigt, chairman of the commission which next meets Nov. 20 in San Diego.

Quarry was suspended last spring in connection with a contract controversy in his bout against Mac Foster of Fresno, Calif. Quarry stopped Foster in New York.

The fine was assessed because Quarry fought a boxer who was under suspension in California. He was suspended again when he failed to pay the fine.

Quarry and his attorney, Paul Caruso, said the fine would be paid under appeal. They also said they would fight Johnny Flores' attachment of Quarry's share of the live gate from the Ali fight in Atlanta. Flores claims his contract as Quarry's co-manager is still effective.

Both Husbands, Wives See Prices Differently

NEW YORK (AP) — Jumping to conclusions:

One of the differences between men and women is how they look at price tags in a store. A man looks to see if he can afford to buy the item, a woman looks to see if the price has been reduced and therefore made the item a bargain.

Whatever happened to amateur harmonica players? It has been years since I've heard a kid strolling along blowing a tune on one of these instruments, once far more popular than the guitar.

How much safer is it to insult a dead lion than a live lion? Ever since his death, critics have been standing in line in order to sneer at Ernest Hemingway, the greatest literary lion of his day, and his cult of physical courage and hairy-chested masculinity. Yet there was nothing untrue in Hemingway's code. It still takes bravery to live successfully, and there is all too little real masculinity in a world growing ever more feminized.

There are few things that give a man a greater feeling of satisfaction than outliving a doctor younger than himself.

The hardest test of memory is trying to recall on Friday what the minister preached about on the previous Sunday.

Despite the fact we are all surrounded by crooks, most men and women go through life without ever having the thrill of yelling, "Stop thief!"

Suspense is what you have when the boss takes a bunch of the fellows to lunch and each waits for another to summon up the boldness to suggest a second round of Martinis. The one who does then spends the rest of the afternoon wondering whether he is a hero or a martyr.

The longer a wife's fingernails are, the more likely it is that her husband washes the dishes. On the other hand, the less likely it is that she will try to scratch him during a family argument.

When the engagement ring an office secretary says she received from her fiance contains a diamond larger than a quarter carat, well—you can bet the poor girl doesn't have enough left in her savings account to pay for their honeymoon.

Nothing frustrates a single girl more than meeting a handsome bachelor who can sew on his own buttons. It makes her feel so unneeded.

What this country needs—even more than a good five-cent cigar—is a brand-new cuss word with which we could describe its plight.

Life has become so noisy that about the only way a guy can hear a pin drop anymore is to go to a bowling alley.

Jobless Claim By McCormack

WASHINGTON (AP) — House Speaker John W. McCormack has added a final blow to Democratic election complaints about the economy with the declaration that unemployment has reached 6 per cent.

He gave no source for the figure, which a Labor Department spokesman said was not scheduled to be released until Nov. 6.

The spokesman said of McCormack: "He must be a seer because we don't have the figure ourselves yet."

McCormack, D-Mass., said in his statement Monday: "I am confident voters will see through the media-smothering tactics of the Republican effort to play on fears, and will vote on the real issues before the country.

"What is needed is less politics, less appeals to fears and emotions by this administration and more use of the measures to combat crime, inflation and unemployment which Congress has passed and sent to the White House," he said.

The Labor Department said the new figure is still being tabulated, but some Democrats have charged it is being held until after today's elections.

In answer, the department released a fact sheet which it said showed that in the past 10 years, October unemployment figures had been released only twice before elections and, in both cases, elections were later than Nov. 3.

In 1962, the figures appeared Oct. 31 and elections were Nov. 6. In 1956, the report came out Nov. 4, when elections were on Nov. 8.

The fact sheet said the figures are always collected on a week containing the 12th of the month. Processing takes two weeks, and the actual release date after that can vary as much as a week.

This year's October report has been scheduled for Nov. 6 for almost a year, the fact sheet said.

Three Are Killed In Monday Crashes

Missouri traffic accidents killed three persons Monday evening.

Minnie Lee Ayers, 70, of DeWitt, Mo., was killed on U.S. 24 at the east edge of Carrollton where her car hit a bridge and spun head-on into a second car.

Harry Stewart, 69, died on the way to a hospital in Columbia after his car hit a highway sign, a utility pole and a tree at Eldon. He operated a tourist gift shop at Lake Ozark.

Ernie Eugene Oliver, 56, of Ladonia, Mo., was killed in a three-car smashup on U.S. 54 three miles east of Mexico. Three members of his family were injured. The other two drivers were not hurt.

Candidate 'Air Time' View Given

WASHINGTON (AP) — The question of equal opportunities for candidates to reach the public is for Congress to decide, not the Federal Communications Commission, says FCC chairman Dean Burch.

In an election-eve news conference on the one-year anniversary of his becoming chairman, Burch said Monday he favored equal access to air time that may be purchased by political parties. But he opposed requiring equal, free time for campaigners.

Burch said he hadn't considered the timing of his news conference in relation to election day, but the subject nevertheless swung to election problems.

Asked whether he was bothered by the fact that a rich party could blanket television, leaving a less well endowed party almost blacked out, he said he was "aware of the problem and sympathetic to problems of this nature."

But, he added, campaigning costs money and part of a candidate's role is to raise money.

On other commission matters, Burch disclosed:

—The FCC expects to decide "promptly" the responsibility—if any—that broadcasters will have for presentation of anti-smoking ads after Jan. 1, when cigarette commercials are banned.

—There will be a delay in consideration of proposals to regulate cable television until a vacant commission seat is filled. That should be only "a matter of weeks," Burch said.

—And that, on Monday, a two-week delay was granted for petitions against renewal of broadcast licenses in the Chicago area. The petitions would have been due Nov. 2 on licenses expiring Dec. 1.

Sandra Haynie Named

NEW YORK (AP) — Sandra Haynie has won 19 tournaments in her 10-year career as a professional golfer but the only trophies she displays in her Texas home are a couple of stuffed dolphins.

"My mother has all the silver stuff," said the LPGA's 1970 Player of the Year offhandedly.

Miss Haynie is as blase about her victories as she is about the player of the year honor.

"I didn't even know I was close until last Thursday when I read it in the paper. It's not something I think about at the start of the year," said the 27-year-old Fort Worth native who plays out of Runaway Bay, Tex.

Sandy took the honor, based on points, by edging out Kathy Whitworth, who had won it each year since its inception in 1966.

While she's casual about her game which averages "right at 73" and earned her $26,605.96 this year, she's adamant about her sympathy for football players and her sentiments about the midi skirt.

Sandy tripped over a curb four years ago and injured her knee. Each year she underwent a couple of months of therapy and finally in September 1969 underwent surgery.

"Did I ever develop sympathy for football players!" she said emphatically. "I started exercising my knee the day after surgery and the pain would bring big tears. Football players start their exercise in the recovery room."

Sandra started the 1970 season without full use of her leg but was runnerup in the first tournament, losing in a playoff to Carol Mann. She went on to win two tournaments and finish second in five.

The golfer with the close-cropped hair complementing her compact 5-foot-4 frame swears she'll never wear the midi—on the golf course or off. She prefers the chic pants outfits, something unheard-of in the mid-calf era of the mid-1950s when she was making her name as an amateur golfer.

"I wouldn't play in the tournaments in which we had to wear skirts then," she recalled, "and I'll pass on them now."

The dolphins? They're among about 35 "a bunch of us caught at Del Ray Beach (Fla)," she said. "The ones I've mounted at home weigh about 10-15 pounds each. I guess they're probably the biggest I ever caught."

Missourian Dies

Prejudice, Police Role Police Chief's Topics

"We are not born with prejudices, but we acquire them as we grow up, generally as the result of parental attitudes," Sedalia Police Chief William Miller told members of the Rotary Club at its regular Monday noon meeting at Hotel Bothwell.

"Members of the police department are not exempt, for they are human, too, but they are trained to keep bias and prejudice under control," Miller stated.

Prejudices extend into many areas including race, color, style of hair and manner of dress. And so often, because of prejudice, people jump to conclusions before they have all the facts, he said, and suggested that before "we judge, we stop and take another look."

Miller showed a film entitled, "Take Another Look," which demonstrated that things are not always as they may first appear. It made the point that members of the modern police department are interested in helping those who are sick, those who need guidance and assistance.

He said the police uniform is not a symbol of brutality and that the person wearing the uniform is dedicated to bringing about a better understanding between police and younger people in our society.

The speaker was introduced by the Rev. Roy Dameron, program chairman. Kirk McCrary gave the invocation and Jim Edwards led in group singing, accompanied by Mrs. Keith Maynard at the piano.

Aubrey Case, club president, called on Harry Walch to introduce John Candler, personnel manager at Olin Conductors, who is a new member of the club. He also called on Al Fowler, of the Warsaw Rotary Club, who invited Sedalia Rotarians to attend the Warsaw club's annual Pancake Day on Nov. 11.

Case recognized those with November birthdays: John Brown, Jim Edwards, Lawrence Barnett, Richard Johnson and Charles Hurtt.

Guests introduced by Robert Phillips were: Wayne Jaeger, Rotarian from Warrensburg; Al Fowler and Don Slaughter, of the Warsaw Rotary Club;; Robert Eidson, Southwestern Bell Telephone Co. wire chief supervisor, with Richard Lehmer; Tom Edwards and Vince Siegel, students from State Fair Community College; Will Raumacher and Mike Heembrock, students from Smith-Cotton High School; and Darrell Cook and Bob Freund, Sacred Heart High School.

Officer Recalls Incident

SAN JOSE, Calif. (AP) — Police Chief Ray Blackmore says he "would have liked it a lot better" if President Nixon had not flashed a "V for victory" sign to antiwar demonstrators at a Republican rally here last Thursday.

But Blackmore said Monday the President was never in danger from the chanting crowd and added that reports of violence at the demonstration had been exaggerated.

"A few rocks were thrown. There was a verbal attack. That was the so-called violence," Blackmore said.

He said Jose State College students and police alike "were smeared" by descriptions of "a hail of rocks and eggs," but declined to disclose whom he blamed, saying, "I don't want to get involved in a political dispute."

He also refused comment on student assertions that it was a deliberate provocation for Nixon to make the V sign, but commented:

"I would have liked it a lot better if he had not gotten in the car and waved. We felt the sooner we could get him out of there the better. A delay of a minute could be crucial, but we did get the President safely out of there, so I can't say it was an error."

Chris Mosher, 23, a nonstudent leader of Medical Resistance, a group organized to treat persons injured in demonstrations, said four students were injured by police clubs and 30 affected by an irritant gas. Blackmore said one officer suffered a broken finger.

Mosher said a search of the site of the demonstration after the presidential party left turned up "four rocks, a couple of bottles and a stick or two."

Blackmore said he saw one bottle thrown, heard sounds of one or two other missiles, and had evidence that one car in the presidential party was hit by a rock. Windows were broken in a bus near the end of the presidential motorcade.

"Who threw the rocks? I don't know. It could have been working people," Blackmore said at a student meeting at San Jose State.

In San Francisco, John F. Henning, executive secretary-treasurer of the AFL-CIO California Labor Council on Political Education, accused Nixon of coming to San Jose to provoke a demonstration.

"We charge that his San Jose scenario was arranged to divert attention from California's record high unemployment and runaway inflation," Henning said.

Presidential Press Secretary Ronald Ziegler said at the Western White House there would be no comment.

A spokesman for the Democratic State Central Committee said, "Before the President came to California, we got reports from the Republican side—friendly conversation—that one reason they chose San Jose was because they expected spontaneous trouble."

He said, "We have no evidence that it was Republican-inspired, a Republican plot in a Machiavellian way, except that San Jose was chosen because it was a potential trouble area."

The San Jose City Council, without naming a source for its information, wrote to President Nixon Monday saying "several groups put out the word" to come to San Jose for the presidential visit.

The letter said, "We agree with your opinion that the violent radicals from the entire Bay Area used this particular occasion to create the incident."

The letter expressed gratitude that Nixon had not said anything "to reflect on the good name of San Jose" because of the incident.
